1 KILLED, 14 HURT WHEN PASSENGER AND FREIGHT HIT

Several Cars on Georgia Road Almost Totally Destroyed in Crash Sunday Morning Near Decatur.

MRS. GEORGE MATHIESON INJURED IN COLLISION

Mrs. R. T. Cresse, of Charlotte, Also Reported Badly Hurt — Freight Engineer Says Watch Was Fast.

One negro was killed, fourteen passengers were injured, two seriously, and several freight and passenger cars were almost totally destroyed Sunday morning about 6 o'clock when northbound freight train No. 19, of the Georgia railroad, crashed into the rear end of passenger train No. 3 as the latter train was pulling out of Alta Loma, not far from Decatur.

The dead negro is Max Smith, of Lithonia.

The seriously injured are:

Mrs. George Mathieson, residence Peachtree road, Atlanta, severely bruised and cut about the head, with internal injuries, the extent of which cannot be determined for twenty-four hours.

Mrs. R. T. Cresse, of Charlotte, N. C., daughter-in-law of Coleman E. Cresse, 1036 Piedmont avenue, badly cut on head and body, and internal injuries are feared.

Freight Strikes Passenger.

The accident occurred just as the passenger train was getting under way after the regular stop. The cars had gone scarcely one hundred yards when the freight train swept around the curve a short distance south of the station, and before the engineer could throw on the brakes the heavy freight engine, followed by twenty heavily loaded cars, crashed into the rear end of the slowly moving passenger train at the rate of 20 miles an hour.

The great freight engine plowed through the end of the Pullman car as though tissue paper, boring into the car until the pilot and smokestack were entirely covered by the Pullman's roof. Mrs. Mathieson and Mrs. Cresse were the only passengers in the rear of the last car, and all others escaped with a few scratches and bruises. It will probably remain a mystery as to how the negro met his death, as he was in the first coach of the passenger train, which carried five cars, and was the only person in the car who was injured. It is presumed that he was walking down the aisle of the car, and when the train was struck was thrown forward against the arm of a seat, crushing his skull.

Says Watch Was Fast.

Engineer Joe Guinn, of the freight train, claims that his watch was ten minutes fast, and that he was under the impression that he had a clear track to Decatur. He could not see even the top of the station building from around the curve, he states, and as he had not received orders to stop at the station did not think it necessary to slacken speed as he approached.

The first two cars of the freight train was utterly demolished, and freight and car wreckage was piled up in such a manner that it took a large wrecking force more than ten hours to clear the line for traffic. A relief train was ordered out immediately, and brought the passengers of the train to Atlanta, where those who had received injuries received attention from the Georgia railroad physicians.

The wrecking train was soon busy clearing up the wreckage so that traffic could be resumed. A big crowd gathered, drawn by the news of the accident, and several parties motored out from Atlanta. Among them is Pope-Hartford car driven by Chauffeur Prior, furnished The Constitution staff correspondent, L. L. Crane.

Mrs. Mathieson and Mrs. Cresse were brought to Atlanta in a private ambulance summoned by Coleman E. Cresse, and taken to St. Joseph's hospital. The hospital authorities state that while both are in a critical condition, they will recover if their internal injuries prove no more serious than is now thought.

No Official Report Made.

Augusta, Ga., August 24.—No official report of the cause of the wreck near Decatur has been made to the general offices of the road here, but the statement from general offices is that the trains were under orders to run ten minutes apart.

THAW NOT WORRIED SINCE HE HAS FACED DEATH CHAIR TWICE

Prisoner Says That It Will Take More Than Prospect of Returning to Matteawan to Bother Him.

THAW AND HIS LAWYERS HAVE PATCHED UP TRUCE

Thaw to Manage "Publicity End" and Lawyers Legal Work—Real Battle Over Thaw to Begin Next Wednesday.

Sherbrooke, Quebec, August 24.—Harry K. Thaw, reconciled with his Canadian lawyers to the procedure to be followed next Wednesday, when, according to present plans, he will be arraigned in the superior court on a writ of habeas corpus, spent a restful Sunday in the Sherbrooke jail, and announced tonight that no matter if William Travers Jerome did take charge of New York state's case, he (Thaw) was not fearful of the outcome.

"I faced the death chair twice," said Thaw. "Why should I worry about going back to Matteawan?"

Mr. Jerome had not reached here this evening, and in the absence of Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general in charge of the New York forces, no authoritative statement could be obtained as to the time of his arrival. E. A. Conger, Dutchess county's district attorney, said he heard Jerome was coming by motor.

On the Thaw side the arrival here of Roger O'Mara was just as indefinite. Today Thaw himself said he had not summoned the Pittsburg detective. Subsequently he amended this. "I expect to see Roger," he admitted.

Thaw Doing "Publicity End."

Having found it useless to argue with him, Thaw's lawyers brought about a truce in the breach which for a time threatened, by agreeing to let Thaw manage the "publicity end of his case."

To Thaw this end has become predominant. He has been told that he is likely to be deported to Vermont after the immigration authorities take him into custody, and tonight he made a request for a list of the leading newspapers of that state.

"I may have some very important statements to give them," he said.

Two conferences, in one of which Thaw participated, were held today by Thaw's lawyers. The chief counsel, Mr. Greenshields, was absent. He will not return from Montreal until tomorrow. But Charles D. White, W. C. McKeown, Colonel Harry Fraser, ex-Governor William A. Stone, of Pennsylvania, and W. A. Blakeley, of Pittsburg, district attorney of Allegheny county, spent a good part of the day in going over the ground. Mr. Blakeley was emphatic in saying he had not come here in the capacity of a lawyer opposing New York state's interests, but as a personal friend of the Thaw family.

"I have known Harry Thaw intimately for years," he said, "and my coming should be considered as a personal visit. I shall return to Pittsburg tonight. Possibly I shall return."

Thaw's Lawyers Not Predicting.

None of the Thaw lawyers cared to make any predictions tonight as to the unwinding of the legal phases of the case, but it was understood they would come into court with their habeas corpus writ granted last week on Wednesday as agreed and begin their real battle when the immigration authorities take up the question of deporting Thaw as an undesirable alien.

This hearing might last for days. Should it result in Thaw's deportation the Canadian counsellors then would drop the case and American

HERDED ON ISLAND AND GIVEN NO FOOD

Bulgars Allowed Thousands to Starve to Death—Almost Incredible Atrocities Charged by Pierre Loti.

London, August 24.—The sublime porte has opened direct negotiations with the Bulgarian delegate, M. Nochevitoh, who has remained in Constantinople since he went there at the outbreak of the second war to negotiate an understanding with Turkey. It is understood that the porte remains firm with regard to Adrianople and Kirk Killisseh, but is prepared to make concessions in other quarters.

Desert Made of Thrace.

Pierre Loti, the French writer, under Constantinople date sends to The Daily Telegraph a vivid story of his impressions on visiting Adrianople and the surrounding districts. Loti says:

"The Bulgarians have made of Thrace a desert surpassing in abomination everything I had been told and all that I had imagined. With what fury have these Christian liberators worked in order to accomplish so much destruction in a few months."

He describes orgies and massacres and violation and desecration in all the Turkish villages and asserts that Adrianople itself only escaped by a miracle because the Turks arrived a day earlier than was expected and so defeated the Bulgarian plans for a similar massacre there.

Turkish Prisoners Starved.

M. Loti confirms the story of several thousand Turkish prisoners being herded on an island and there allowed to starve to death by the Bulgarians, those who survived starvation being massacred and protests in the strongest terms against Europe permitting Adrianople to be handed back to the Bulgarians. He says to do so would be a crime and expresses the belief that the Russians have been misled and that when they know all the monstrous truth they will realize that to take up the cause "of this small, deceitful and ferocious people, this opprobrium of the great slav family, would be to soil their history with an indelible stain."

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO FIVE PERSONS KILLED

Three Others Are Badly Hurt—Train Was Running at High Speed.

Chicago, August 24.—Five persons were killed and three badly hurt tonight when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by the "Hoosier limited" train on the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville railroad 1 mile north of St. John's, Ind. The dead:

Alexander Rubin, merchant; his wife and 2-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Leo Rubin.

Leo Rubin, Jr., 6-year-old son of Mrs. Leo Rubin.

Leo H. Rubin, a merchant; Isadore Schiller, a real estate dealer, and Miss Amanda Kahn were badly cut and bruised.

The automobile was owned and driven by Schiller. The party was returning from summer resorts and the machine was being driven slowly, according to Schiller. All who were killed were riding in the tonneau, while those riding in front escaped death.

Schiller apparently started across the track without noticing the approaching train. The occupants of the automobile were tossed 20 feet in the air and the car was crushed.

The train, which was late and was running at high speed, stopped and brought the dead and injured to Chicago.

Mrs. Grace's Maid Is Murdered; Eighteenth Victim of "Ripper"

Martha Ruffian, at one time a maid in the employ of Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace and a witness in the famous trial of Mrs. Grace for the attempted murder of her husband, was found dead Sunday morning at 7 o'clock in the rear of 58 Ponce de Leon avenue.

The woman had been living for the past month in an alley just off Ponce de Leon avenue, having separated from her husband, J. C. Ruffian, who was also a state's witness in the Grace trial and a former butler in the Grace home. She had evidently been killed in her home and then dragged through a large pea patch for a distance of 50 feet, as a trail of blood was discovered leading from the house to the clump of bushes in which the body was found.

Her death was due to a single knife wound in the throat, which severed the jugular vein. The crime is a mystery to the police, who can assign no motive for the murder of the negress unless it can be shown that Alex Smith, a negro lately intimate with her, killed her in a jealous rake. The murder was committed in the regular "Jack the Ripper" style and is the eighteenth crime of the same nature perpetrated in Atlanta within the past three years. The police are searching for Alex Smith, a negro, who they believe may be able to tell something about the crime.

LEO FRANK'S FATE MAY BE DECIDED BY MONDAY NIGHT

Solicitor Dorsey Is Expected to Complete His Address to Jury During Morning Session of Court.

MANY FRIENDS VISIT FRANK IN THE TOWER

Judge Has Intimated That He Will Be Ready to Receive Verdict at Any Time of Day or Night.

By 11 o'clock this morning—and perhaps earlier—Solicitor Hugh Dorsey will have finished his address in the case of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, and Judge Roan will begin charging the jury.

In a talk with a Constitution reporter last night Mr. Dorsey intimated that the final summing up of his argument would not take two hours, and that it probably would not last much longer than one. He intimated that by 11 o'clock the judge would be well under way in his charge.

With two more hours added to the already record-breaking speech of the solicitor, it will establish a mark that many declare will not be excelled in years to come. Mr. Dorsey has already spoken over six hours.

Because of exhaustion, resulting from his speech of over four hours Saturday afternoon, the solicitor spent a quiet Sunday, getting ready for the end of his argument today.

Rosser at Warm Springs.

Luther Z. Rosser, senior attorney for the defense, spent Sunday and Sunday night in Warm Springs and Woodbury, which he visited with his wife. At Warm Springs during the day, he was besieged by a host of admirers.

Leo Frank spent a typical Sunday in jail. Throughout the day his cell was open for callers. His wife and mother came late in the afternoon, remaining with him for considerable while. On these trips, he is permitted to see them in the jailer's dining-room on the first floor.

He read the papers bearing on the progress of his trial, and, according to attaches of the prison, appeared unaffected by the terrific strain of the trial. Frank, his jailers say, has not suffered a single day of illness since his imprisonment.

It is predicted that the jury will retire this afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock. The regular noon recess will be observed. The judge will charge the jury on the law in the case, and then there will be no developments until a verdict is reached.

When Will Verdict Be?

It is a matter of wide speculation over the time in which the jury will require to render a verdict. Many predict it will not be returned tonight, while others expect it as early as midnight, if not before.

Following the charge the twelve men retire to the jury room in the courthouse. A hat ballot is cast, each man indicating his decision of "guilt," "innocent" or "doubt." Then a foreman is elected.

A foreman selected, the jurymen begin their arguments. Each man is permitted to present his individual views of the case. If much time is required the foreman, from time to time, will be called into the court-room to announce to the court the progress of his body.

Judge Roan has already announced that he will be in readiness to receive the verdict at any time it is reached.

Quiet Day for Jurors.

Sunday was a quiet day for the jurors. An extra detachment of bailiffs and deputies stood guard over their quarters in the Kimball house and no outsider was permitted within hearing distance.

At 8 o'clock the twelve men were taken on their daily constitutional through side streets of the uptown district, returning shortly before 9 o'clock.

Pool reserves from both the headquarters and county departments will be detailed to the courthouse today.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER SPEAKS TO THE DEAF

Cleveland, Ohio, August 24.—John D. Rockefeller spoke a few words of greeting at the Euclid avenue Baptist church today to the 200 members of the National Association of the Deaf who are holding a convention in this city.

"You are infinitely greater blessed than many, many people," he said.

"Your sign language is beautiful. I wish I knew it."

The remarks were interpreted by Mrs. Elmer E. Bates. After the services Mr. Rockefeller stood at the door and shook hands with the deaf as they passed out.

The Rev. E. Clayton Wyand, of Boston, preached the sermon on the subject "Character."

DEMOCRATS RALLY AS BANKERS FIGHT CURRENCY MEASURE

Answer of Administration Forces in House to Criticism of Financiers Will Be Tightening of the Lines.

SPIRIT OF HARMONY CONTROLS DEMOCRATS

President Wilson Receiving More United Support Than at Any Time Since He Has Been in Office.

Washington, August 24.—The answer of the administration forces in the house to the criticisms of the new currency bill made by the conference of bankers at Chicago yesterday will be a tightening up of the lines and a more vigorous indorsement of the bill as it now stands. Informal conference of democratic members of the house currency committee today emphasized the fact that the active supporters of the president's currency plan expect to put the measure through the house without substantial change.

The amendments proposed by the bankers, it was pointed out by the house leaders today, were all considered in detail when the bill originally was prepared and in the long debate over its provisions in the house committee on banking and currency. The proposal to reduce the quantity of reserves and give country banks the privilege of keeping part of their reserves in the large cities had many supporters and ultimately may be worked into the bill in the senate, but the change is not expected in the house.

Bankers to Be Heard.

The bankers will have an opportunity to present their views openly to congress after the currency bill gets into the senate. Chairman Owen, of the senate currency committee, said today that while hearings had not yet been arranged, he expected leading representatives of the various "factions" amongst the bankers of the country would be invited to give their views of the bill to the senate committee.

"I see a great deal of merit in the proposal to reduce somewhat the quantity of the reserves," said Senator Owen. "We have not discussed the new legislation sufficiently in committee, however, to know what changes may be made in the bill."

The fact that leading bankers hold

FALL FROM WHEEL MAY PROVE FATAL

Charley McAfee Has Skull Fractured in Accident, and His Body Is Then Struck by Automobile.

As a result of falling from a bicycle while riding along Peachtree street near Baker, Charley McAfee, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Lucinda McAfee, 13 Capitol avenue, is lying in Grady hospital with a fracture of the skull so serious that the attending physicians state there is small hope for his recovery.

Young McAfee, in company with his twin brother, Harry, left his home about 9 o'clock Sunday morning, telling his mother that he was going to Sunday school. Going to the home of friends on Fraser street, the twins secured the loan of two bicycles and started for a morning ride.

Tossed Heavily to Ground.

They wheeled about the city for an hour and were going out Peachtree street at a good rate of speed, when upon nearing Baker street Charley, who had wheeled into the car track to avoid a passing automobile, attempted to gain the right side of the tracks and the front wheel of his bicycle caught in the flange of the car track, throwing him heavily to the ground directly in the path of another automobile driven by A. C. Bromberg. Before Mr. Bromberg could stop his car the front wheels had passed over the motionless form of the youngster.

An ambulance was hastily secured from the nearby establishment of Barclay & Brandon and the boy was rushed to Grady hospital for treatment. It was found on examination that McAfee had sustained a severe fracture of the skull besides a number of bruises and skinned places on his body. Mr. Bromberg has been absolved of all blame for the boy's injuries, as the medical examination of the boy showed that his skull was fractured when his head struck the pavement after his fall and the injuries from being run down by the car are only minor ones.

Grieves for Brother.

The most touching part of the entire affair is the grief so plainly shown by the injured lad's twin brother, Harry, who was a witness of the accident. The boys have been inseparable from early childhood, taking part in the same games, attending the same classes in school and even going so far as to dress exactly alike.

Up to a late hour last night the boy had not regained consciousness. His life was at first given up altogether, the hospital authorities stating that he had no possible chance to recover, but about 5 o'clock Sunday a change for the better was noticed, and according to the physicians young McAfee may pull through if no complications set in.

WORLD SENTIMENT BACKING WILSON AGAINST HUERTA

Besides European Powers, the Countries of Latin-America Support the Mexican Policy of the United States.

UNLESS HUERTA YIELDS WILSON MESSAGE GOES

If Huerta Doesn't Make Satisfactory Overtures by Tuesday Wilson Will Put Matter Before Congress — Huerta Must Go.

Washington, August 24.—Besides Great Britain, France and Japan, practically all the Central and South American countries are lending their support to the efforts of the United States to bring about a peaceful settlement of the Mexican revolution.

Unless satisfactory overtures are made by the Huerta government before Tuesday, President Wilson will proclaim in person in a message to both houses of congress the principle that constitutional government alone can be recognized in Mexico. He also will outline the suggestions of the United States for the elimination of Huerta and the establishment of a legally constituted administration in the southern republic.

Backed by World Sentiment.

That the United States is backed by a world-wide sentiment in its peace policy is conceded in diplomatic circles here. Tangible evidences of the attitude of France came today in the news dispatches from Paris stating it was practically certain President Poincare and Foreign Minister Pichon would not receive Francisco de la Barra, appointed minister to France by Provisional President Huerta, and now en route to his post. His status, it was pointed out in the advices from Paris, was similar to that of General Felix Diaz, special ambassador to Japan from the Huerta administration, who, it was announced in Tokio, would not be welcomed.

Great Britain's statement recently that the recognition of Huerta had been provisional pending an election, taken together with expressions from France and Japan, all of whom have formally recognized Huerta, are the only public manifestations of sympathy with the policy of the United States in opposing Huerta, but in the quiet realm of diplomacy a greater pressure is being brought to bear upon

AUGUSTA PASSES EXCITING SUNDAY

Assault With Intent to Murder, Attempted Suicide, Another Assault and Accidents Keep Hospitals Busy.

Augusta, Ga., August 24.—One assault with intent to murder, one attempted suicide, one assault of a high and aggravated nature and the incidental accidents of the day resulted in a very busy day for the hospitals here.

R. Frank Cannon, a shipping clerk, lies in a hospital with a serious bullet wound in his head, inflicted by Fred Elliott, a saloon keeper. Details of the crime could not be learned. Elliott says "it's a family affair," and refuses to talk further. Cannon is in a serious condition. Elliott is under $1,000 bond.

Despondent over recent heavy financial reverses, C. H. Matthews swallowed poison and is unconscious and in a grave condition at City hospital. He admitted taking the drug before he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Mystery surrounds the assault of a man named Winters by one Phillips. Winters is unconscious at City hospital, suffering from many blows on the head with a beer bottle and severe cuts about the face. The crime was committed in a questionable part of the city. Both men are unknown to the police, but their surnames were secured following ar investigation.

DR. EDW. M. BOUNDS, PASTOR AND AUTHOR, CROSSES THE DIVIDE

Washington, Ga., August 24.—(Special.)—Edward M. Bounds, D. D., a prominent minister and writer, died at his home here late this afternoon following a protracted illness of several months. He was 78 years old, and a member of the Missouri conference, although for the past fifteen years he had not engaged in active ministerial duties.

Dr. Bounds for several years was editor of The St. Louis Advocate, a church publication, and later served as associate editor of The Nashville Christian Advocate, under Dr. E. E. Hoss before the latter was elected to the bishopric. For the past fifteen years had been spent at his home in Washington as local elder and, during this time he devoted his attention to writing books on religious subjects, which have won for him a national reputation. One book, "The Power of Prayer," has been published in several editions and translated into several languages.

The funeral will occur at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon from his late residence, and the burial will be in the city cemetery. He is survived by his second wife and several children.

DISLIKING THE FOOD HE SHOOTS THE CHEF

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., August 24.—Thomas H. Kimlin was fatally shot by Lorenzo Barrett near Hopewell Junction today and Barrett is in jail here charged with murder. Mrs. Catherine Havens, who was present at the time of the shooting, is detained as a witness.

Barrett is 70 years old and Kimlin 60. The two men and Mrs. Havens had dinner together and Barrett complained of the manner in which Kimlin had prepared the food.

While Kimlin was dancing about the floor with Mrs. Havens Barrett became angered. A quarrel followed and as Kimlin walked out of the door he was followed by Barrett, who is alleged to have picked up a rifle and shot imlin through the heart.

MRS. OWEN WISTER SUMMONED BY DEATH

Saunderstown, R. I., August 24.—Mrs. Owen Wister, wife of the novelist, died suddenly today at her summer home here of heart failure. Mrs. Wister, who was Miss Mary Channing Waiter, was married to the writer in 1898 at Philadelphia, and was prominent in society in that city and New York. Her husband was at her bedside.

WORLD SENTIMENT IS BACKING WILSON

the Huerta regime to yield to the American suggestions for peace.

Latin-America Backs Wilson.

Assurances that Latin-America stands by President Wilson have been informally received here. This had been expected, however, as the interests of central and south American countries, where volatility of government has prevailed, through military dictatorships, are admittedly in line with the attitude taken by the United States in the present situation.

While President Wilson has completed his message, which will embrace not only a summary of the proposals made by John Lind and the reply of the Huerta government, but a statement of the policy to be followed by the United States, administrations officials were reticent to discuss what course would be pursued. They pointed significantly, however, to the Latin-American utterances issued by President Wilson during the first fortnight of his administration and declared it would be the basis upon what he would have to say on Tuesday.

In that statement the president announced the nations he desired the most cordial understanding and co-operation between the peoples and leaders of America," and said:

"Co-operation is impossible only when supported at every turn by the orderly processes of just government based upon the consent of, not upon arbitrary or irregular force.

Consent of the Governed.

"We hope that I am sure all thoughtful leaders of republican government everywhere will join us in the belief that rests always upon the consent of the governed and that there can be no lasting peace except it be based upon law and upon the public conscience and approval. We shall look to make these principles facts by friendly mutual intercourse, respect and helpfulness between our sister republics and ourselves. We shall lend our influence of every kind to the realization of these principles in fact and in spirit, but will not, through disorder, personal intrigue and defiance of legitimate authority, seek to advance our credit government and injure none so much as the people who are unfortunate enough to have their own selfish life and their common affairs so tainted and disturbed. We can have no sympathy with those who seek to seize the power of government to advance their own personal interests or ambition. We are the friends of peace, but we know that there can be no lasting or stable peace in such circumstances. As friends, therefore, we shall prefer those who act in the interest of peace and honor, who protect private rights and respect the restraints of constitutional provision. Mutual respect seems to us the indispensable foundation of friendship between states, as between individuals."

United States Disinterested.

The president pointed out that the United States had nothing to seek in Latin-America, but the "lasting interests of the peoples" and "the security of government intended for the people and for no special group or interest."

These are the principles on which President Wilson has based his attitude of non-recognition of the Huerta government, set up through the overthrow by arms of Francisco Madero, the legally elected ruler of the country. It is to secure a return to constitutional government that the efforts are predicated and the resignation of Huerta therefore has been made the chief point in the American proposals for a peaceful settlement of the dispute.

Secretary Bryan had a brief conference with President Wilson during the day, discussing the Mexican situation. Mr. Bryan announced that the situation remained unchanged. It is expected in many quarters here, however, that the Huerta government may withdraw its rejection of the American proposals and submit a new basis of negotiations. This action admittedly would defer the reading of the president's message.

KEEN ANXIETY IS FELT IN MEXICAN CAPITAL

Mexico City, August 24.—The keenest anxiety was manifested in the capital today as to the effect of the delay of the undertaking of the United States government in Mexico's internal affairs. Mexico's attitude is one of waiting, while the people resident here, both native and foreign, are displaying deep apprehension.

That President Huerta will make public tomorow the correspondence between the two countries is now a matter of doubt, in official quarters. It is thought possible that President Wilson will advance the data for the presentation of his message notwithstanding the announcement of a 48-hour limit. No news of such determination on the part of the president of the United States to force General Huerta's hand in this way has reached the embassy, however.

Rumors continue that Huerta is still considering resigning, possibly in favor of General Trevino, but there is no sound basis for such assertion. Those close to the executive insist he will not alter the stand he has taken, and will await Washington's next move.

The opinion is expressed here that there will be a swift severance of all peaceable relations if congress is given opportunity for debate on President Wilson's statement of the facts in the case.

Senor Gamboa, minister of foreign affairs, denies the reports that Mexico will make any proposal to the United States, but expresses the hope that Washington might reply to Mexico's note, rejecting the American demands.

Mr. Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, maintains cordial relations with the foreign office, but little has been done during the last few days by him, and Senor Gamboa which would be calculated to alter the situation. At present official negotiations between the two countries have ceased, Mr. Lind being now a spectator of events rather than an actor. It is not expected that he will leave here before President Wilson's message is read.

CHARGES BY MULHALL DECLARED TO BE FALSE

Philadelphia, Pa., August 24.—The charges made before the senatorial investigating committee by Martin W. Mulhall against Frank Feeny, a labor leader of this city, were declared to be "false and without foundation," in a committee report accepted by the Central Labor union here today. The committee was appointed last month to investigate charges that Feeny had been on Mulhall's payroll and had assisted him to break a printers' strike in this city. The report today declared that evidence had been received completely exonerating Feeny.

Five members signed the majority report, while a minority report, asking that judgment be suspended, was signed by two members.

SULZER'S "WAR BOARD" PLANNING BACKFIRE

Governor to Move For Indictment of Legislators Who Moved to Impeach Him.

New York, August 24.—An effort will be made this week, according to confidants of Governor Sulzer, to procure the indictment of several members of the legislature who were most active in the impeachment of the governor, and also of certain men who, in Sammany Hall who are not officially connected with the legislature. One of the charges, it is said, will be criminal conspiracy.

This is the last strategic move of the Sulzer "war board" as outlined today by Judge Lynn J. Arnold, one of Governor Sulzer's most trusted advisors.

During the last ten days lawyers who volunteered to assist Governor Sulzer have been busily engaged gathering evidence touching this alleged conspiracy and it was announced today that they had procured sufficient data to justify them in placing the matter in the hands of District Attorney Whitman, of New York, with a demand that he lay the evidence at once before a grand jury.

Other lawyers and laymen here who had a hand in the Sulzer proceedings expressed confidence that their contemplated move will block the governor's impeachment trial. They declared that when the evidence they have collected is made public it will cause the court of appeals to decline to join the senate in a trial, and that the whole matter will fall to the ground, as the senate would have no power under the constitution to proceed alone.

Governor Sulzer spent a quiet day at the executive mansion. Mrs. Sulzer's condition continues to improve.

Acting Governor Glynn was at his summer home on the Hudson, this about the day. Mr. Glynn's adherents derided the latest move of the Sulzer forces, declared that it would prove absolutely ineffective.

SAVED FROM DROWNING HE KILLS HIS RESCUER

Taylorsville, Ky., August 24.—Posse tonight is searching the Ohio river bottoms for Lewis Phillips, who isaccused of the cold-blooded and unexplained murder of William Zurelbry, committed only a short time after Zurelbry had saved Phillips from drowning.

Phillips and several other men were pitched into the Ohio late last night when their skiff overturned. Zurelbry, an aged man, who witnessed the accident, swam in and rescued Phillips, who could not swim. Not long afterward, it is said, Phillips went to Zurelbry's house armed with a rifle, entered the house and asked whether Zurelbry were his rescuer. Upon receiving an affirmative answer Phillips is said to have shot the old man through the heart.

Phillips, though fired upon by a posse, which quickly formed, escaped across the river. Late tonight he had not been captured.

THREATENED BY MOB HE KILLED THE LEADER

Maysville, Ky., August 24.—Millard Mastin last night at Mount Olivet shot and killed William Dayton, alleged to have been one of the leaders of a mob which was trying to hang him after he had been acquitted of a serious charge. The mob broke into Mastin's home and had knocked down the door of his bedroom when Mastin opened fire with a shotgun. The charge struck Dayton in the breast and killed him instantly. Mastin was brought here today for safe keeping.

TWO KLEPTOMANIACS SPECIALIZE ONLY ON LARD AND FLOWERS

Rome, Ga., August 24.—(Special.)—If the theory of the Rome police is correct they have in Rosa Miller, colored, a kleptomaniac who stole only flowers. At her home in the negro quarter yesterday they found scores of rare flowers, potted plants, ferns and choice products of the conservatory. Some of these were identified by Rome women as belonging to them. The Miller woman claims to have bought the flowers from a man. For the past year Romans have missed from their conservatories and verandas many flowers, and have been unable to detect the thief. The police have been on the lookout for many weeks for the midnight flower thief, and believe they have her in the Miller woman. So far as is known she never stole anything else, though she was employed as cook and washerwoman for a number of white families. The fact that she confined her depredations entirely to flowers is considered a peculiar form of kleptomania.

There is at present on the Floyd county chaingang a negro known as "Greasy," who has been in jail or on the gang for the greater portion of the last three years, and always for the theft of lard, hence his nickname. He has never been known to pilfer anything except lard, but steals that whenever he can lay his hands upon it.

VERY SUCCESSFUL TERM EXPECTED AT SHORTER

Rome, Ga., August 24.—(Special.)—Dr. A. W. Van Hoose, president of Shorter college, is anticipating a very successful session. He stated today that every room in the college had been engaged for the coming session, and that it is probable that Shorter will be forced to refuse admission to fifty girls who will have applied too late to get a place. In view of this fact, a campaign will be waged among the Baptists of Georgia during the coming year to raise funds for the enlargement of the college. Many improvements have been made on the grounds and buildings during the summer months. All the walls in the residence halls have been tinted, the rooms have all been repainted, and various other work done. A unique feature at Shorter is the department of health, and a big outdoor gymnasium has been fitted up among the trees on the spacious campus near the dormitories. The gymnasium gives room for tennis courts, basketball, field and other sports.

USE OF THIRD DEGREE CENSURED BY PREACHER

"Angel Gabriel Might Be Convicted Upon Circumstantial Evidence," He Asserts.

"Justice and mercy, the divine law of right living," was the subject of Dr. Holderby's sermon Sunday morning at Moore Memorial church, and is in part as follows:

"God, speaking through the Prophet Micah, exhorts all men 'to do justly, love, mercy and to walk humbly with God.' This is the summing up of religion. It is the 'Golden Rule,' and if all men were governed by this law, earth would become heaven. There would then be no need for preachers or lawyers or courts or juries or jails.

"But this law of heaven is not obeyed, and hence the sorrows and miseries of earth. To do justly means the practice of fair dealing with our fellow men. We are living in an age of injustice and cruelty. If all men were to deal justly and show mercy to one another, there would be no graft or fraud or dishonesty in the world.

"This divine law of justice and mercy is often violated by the state as well as by the individual. The law as minstered by the state is inclined to be vindictive and unmerciful.

"Our so-called courts of justice are too often courts of injustice and persecution. If you have any grievance with your neighbor you had better settle the matter by arbitration and stear clear of the courts. This is the Bible injunction. You will not likely get justice in some of our courts.

"In the eyes of the law today it seems that every man is presumed to be guilty of some devilment unless he can prove his innocence, and any man may be convicted of some immorality upon the testimony of any irresponsible witness who has been put through the 'third Degree.' Circumstantial evidence, especially when extorted by the unjust process of the third degree, is a dangerous experiment.

"The Angel Gabriel, were he to make a visit to earth, would likely be convicted of some violation of law upon merely circumstantial evidence. And it is quite certain that Jesus Christ, were He to come to earth, would be suspected and arrested and crucified again just as he was 1900 years ago.

"The world today is 'feeding on the sensational.' The people demand the sensational, although it be at the expense of an innocent victim. The newspapers should not bear the whole blame for publishing sensational stuff. The people demand it. If the gospel were sensational it would be more popular. But all sensation is demoralizing. The published detailed proceedings of the recent murder trial have been more demoralizing to the whole country than the brutal murder itself."

TIFT FARMERS INSIST ON HAVING COUNTY FAIR

Tifton, Ga., August 24.—(Special.)—Tift county farmers insist on having a fair this fall and referred an unfavorable report thereon back to the committee having the matter in charge with instruction to investigate further.

Reports from farmers showed that young cotton has been damaged from 25 to 40 per cent by the dry weather and cool nights of the last ten days. Sixty per cent of the present crop is young.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the farmers of Tift county was held in the chamber of commerce Saturday. There were over 100 farmers present, and crop conditions for the past two weeks was the first thing up for discussion. The extent of the damage from the dry weather was a surprise to many who had not kept up with general conditions.

As a remedy a top dressing of nitrate of soda was suggested. Unless rains come at once, many farmers will try this, although much of the crop is damaged beyond repair. Despite the dry weather, anthracnose has appeared in some sections.

HUFF WOULD ADD TO SPEER CHARGES

He Declares Powerful Influences Are Being Brought to Bear to Quash Impeachment Proceedings.

Macon, Ga., August 24.—(Special.) Declaring that powerful influences are being brought to bear to quash the impeachment proceedings against Judge Emory Speer, former United States district court for the southern district of Georgia, Colonel W. A. Huff, whose charges against Judge Speer in connection with his long pending bankruptcy case were largely responsible for the action of the department of justice in investigating Judge Speer, today sent a 275-word telegram to Congressman C. L. Bartlett demanding that he be given an opportunity to be heard and to file additional charges if those already before the house judiciary committee are insufficient.

"From what I see by the latest newspaper reports it looks to me as though the whole matter is about to be hushed up," said Colonel Huff today. "I think I am entitled to be heard, and since Judge Speer has requested a postponement until fall, there is plenty of time for me to file the additional charges I refer to. I have been told that men with powerful influence have been deluging the Georgia delegation in the house with telegrams in Judge Speer's behalf, characterizing the investigation as muckraking. If the attorney general has not been able to find enough charges to impeach Judge Speer I can supply him with what is lacking."

In addition to the telegram sent to Judge Bartlett yesterday, Colonel Huff wrote Congressman Hughes a letter Saturday explaining his position and requesting that he be given a chance to be heard.

The dormitories at the Boys' school will accommodate 225 and the Martha Berry School for Girls will take care of 100. The Berry schools are now famous throughout the entire country. Many teachers and officers of other institutions have been here during the past summer to learn some of the methods followed by Miss Berry in the industrial training of the young men and women who are at the schools.

EIGHT PEOPLE POISONED AT TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Eufaula, Ala., August 24.—(Special.)—Eight persons are critically ill at Abbeville, south of Eufaula, as the result of eating poisoned ice cream. All the doctors in town are working with them in order that death may not follow a social affair that was held in connection with the Henry county teachers' institute.

Those ill are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood, Miss Anne Crawford, daughter of Probate Judge Crawford, of Henry county; Misses Norton, of Clopton, and Miss Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and their guest, Miss Thomas, ate the ice cream first, but did not feel any ill effects until the former had given the remainder of the freezer to Mr. and Mrs. Wood, at whose home they next were poisoned. It is thought that the metal of the freezer affected the cream.

WEATHER TO BE NORMAL DURING PRESENT WEEK

"The rainfall during the week will be generally local and irregularly distributed.

"A disturbance of moderate intensity will appear in the far west about Wednesday. It will move eastward attended by local showers and thunderstorms and cross the middle west Thursday or Friday and the eastern states near the end of the week.

NAMING OF BARROW FOR COLLECTORSHIP PROVES VERY POPULAR

Savannah, Ga., August 24.—(Special.)—Colonel David C. Barrow, whose nomination as collector of the port at Savannah has been confirmed by the senate, will take charge of the custom house just as soon as his bond is accepted by the department in Washington.

When it was announced that Colonel Barrow was the choice of Senator A. O. Bacon for the collectorship there was much rejoicing among his friends in Savannah and elsewhere in Georgia. He succeeds William R. Leakin, whose commission expired the first of this month.

The name of David Crenshaw Barrow is a conspicuous one in the history of Georgia. It has been borne by three members of the family. As educators, statesmen and members of the learned professions several of the Barrow family have won distinction. Colonel David C. Barrow, who is to be the new collector of port at Savannah, has not fallen behind the standard set by his ancestors, as he ranks as one of the most successful members of the Savannah bar.

Colonel Barrow is the son of the late Judge Pope Barrow. His uncle, Dr. David C. Barrow, has for several years been chancellor of the University of Georgia. The new collector was born on the Barrow plantation in Oglethorpe county and grew to manhood in Athens. He was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1894.

THAW NOT WORRIED SINCE HE FACED DEATH

lawyers begin an involved fight against Thaw's extradition from whatever state to which he may be sent. Of course, this state undoubtedly will be Vermont was still the consensus of opinion.

Of the conference in which he participated today Thaw said:

"My lawyers found me very reasonable, but I am still in charge of my case. I am letting them do the legal work though."

"We thought O'Mara was to take charge of things," it was suggested to Thaw.

"Who said that?" he demanded.

"I understand everything that is going on."

No Religious Worship for Thaw.

Thaw heard Shrewsbrooke's many church bells tolling throughout the day, but indulged in no religious worship. He asked the old governor of the prison if there were to be any jail services. When told there were not, Thaw said:

"I'm sorry, I had hoped there would be."

Everybody in town, even those going to church, had Thaw's name on their lips, and tonight Rev. George McIntosh, of the Sherbrooke Methodist church, referred briefly from the pulpit to the fugitive.

"It is to be hoped that our Canadian courts will maintain their high reputation for impartiality, in disposing of the case of Harry K. Thaw," he said. "Public opinion in Canada demands that justice be done, without a suggestion of any corrupting influences. Sentiment seems to be growing among some of our people that the poor fellow has suffered enough. Others—the better informed—feel that sympathy and justice must remain distinct."

Coarsen, disheveled, and with the week-old stains of travel not all erased, Thaw spent a good part of the day looking out over the serene valley that stretches away to the east from the ancient jail. The pine table, supplied him for his incessingly voluminous correspondence, was buried under a disordered mass of letters and telegrams.

Flowers Sent to Thaw.

The confusion of papers was in marked contrast to the spotless cleanliness in the cell. The floor is scrubbed daily like a ship's deck, the walls are newly whitewashed. An earthen jar on the window sill held a huge bouquet of sweet peas.

"Who sent the flowers," Thaw was asked.

"I don't know," he said.

The governor said he did not know who had sent them. "A little girl, maybe," he smiled. Then he asked a warden if he knew. The warden shook his head.

Thaw laughed at the recurring rumors that attempts would be made to kidnap him. "The whole trouble is," he exclaimed, "that they send a guard up to watch me every time I have a caller. This keeps them trotting up and down stairs and disorganizing the jail equipment. You can make a good story out of the kidnaping stuff though," he added. "Why not something like this:

"'Armed thugs sent across border by Carmody clash between United States and Canada over Harry Thaw.'"

"Have you seen Roger Thompson since his arrest?" Thaw was asked.

"Thompson who?" he evaded.

"Was he a good chauffeur?" an interviewer insisted.

Thaw Says He's Reasonable.

"I told you my lawyers found me reasonable," said Thaw, rising and gesticulating with his cigarette. "If I answered any such question as that it would not be very reasonable, would it? I retained counsel for Thompson because he is a British subject, wrongly involved in my case. They tell me he was born in Toronto."

"Gentleman Roger," lounging in another cell, had no statement to make except, "I've admitted that I'm Roger Thompson and that I drove Thaw in a car when he escaped. That's all I'm going to admit. They've got a lawyer for me now and things look better."

District Attorney Conger said tonight he understood that Thompson's lawyer, Louis St. Laurent, wanted to talk over with him the suggestion made Saturday that Thompson should receive immunity in New York from any prosecution for complicity in the Thaw liberation plot. Mr. Conger added that this information was not direct and that he had not made up his own mind as to whether such an arrangement would be wise or productive of results.

DULL WEEK PROMISED IN THE COTTON MARKET

Old Season Closes and Trade Will Do Much Guessing Over Annual Statistics.

New Orleans, August 24.—The cotton market this week promises to be dull, with trading restricted. This is the last week of the old season and the trade will do much guessing over the annual statistics, some of which promise to lean strongly one way or the other. The figures on consumption, for instance, will probably be extremely bullish in addition to the fact that this will be the closing week of the year, it will also have only five days of trading, as both American markets will close Friday for triple holidays, in observance of Labor day, as is the usual custom. This will tend to deaden business more than anything else.

The weather will be of the highest importance, particularly in the western cotton belt, and will probably influence the daily swings. At the same time the present condition period ends tomorrow, the 26th, and much interest will be taken in the next report on the condition of the crop. This may cause somewhat less attention to be paid to weather conditions than has been the case of late. As the situation now stands the trade is looking forward to a bullish report on condition. The first of the private bureau reports will be awaited with great interest.

It is safe to say that continued drouth in the west would cause prices to work upward, while rains would cause a slump, temporarily at least. There is so much open cotton in Texas awaiting picking that it is difficult to say just what effect continued rains would have on the market. While moisture would check crop deterioration in the west and start the plant making again the damage to open cotton would be severe and picking would be interrupted. So much complaint would result that rains, after the first day or so, might be considered as bullish and cause an advance.

YELLOW JACKETS NEST 10 FEET IN DIAMETER

Millwood, Ga., August 24.—(Special.) A farmer from Ludowici, a few miles from here, tells of a yellow jacket nest at that place 38 feet in circumference and 10 feet in diameter and steadily getting larger. He says that myriads of miles around are coming to see the wonder.

Two weeks ago, continues the farmer, the nest was 8 feet in diameter and 32 feet in circumference. As a rule, yellow jackets build their nest under the ground and this one is said to extend several feet under it.

TWO ALL-DAY MEETINGS IN LAURENS THIS WEEK

Dublin, Ga., August 24.—(Special.) There will be two interesting meetings in the county of Laurens this week, both on the old-fashioned all-day meeting, dinner-on-the-ground style.

The Laurens county Sunday school convention will meet at Mount Olive church Thursday and Friday several miles from this city, at which a two-day program will be carried out, some strong state Sunday school workers making addresses. Another meeting will be the general meeting of the Laurens County association, which will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday with Pleasant Hill church. This will be attended by ministers and workers from all over the county.

TYBEE'S WILD MAN IN BIRTHDAY SUIT ONLY A CLAM DIGGER

Savannah, Ga., August 24.—(Special.)—Peace has been restored on the north end of Tybee Island. The wild man whose appearance on the banks of Tybee creek, back of Estill station, a few days ago, frightened a boat load of women out of their wits, surrendered to the Tybee police today, and he wasn't a wild man after all, either, was he an escaped convict. He makes his living catching clams. That was what he was doing on the creek. He was operating in a place that ordinarily is isolated, particularly as regards women.

When discovered, the man explains, he wore only his birthday suit as he has to get down in the mud and marshy slush. He was surprised and just as badly frightened last Tuesday as the women in the boat were when they rowed up the creek. Lacking clothing but being endowed with native resourcefulness, the man dropped on his all fours and scampered away in the marsh grass. He didn't mean to scare the women. He hoped they wouldn't see him. His surrender came as a great relief to the Tybee residents.

DEMOCRATS RALLY TO CURRENCY BILL

differing views of the effect of the new legislation, particularly with regard to the possible reduction of loans and curtailment of credit, has led members of the senate committee to hope that a further discussion of the bill at open hearings would result in winning the co-operation and support of a large portion of the banking fraternity of the country.

United Support for Wilson.

In the opinion of democratic leaders here the bank has seen greater progress toward united support of President Wilson's legislative policies than any recent stage of congress activity. The entrance of Secretary Bryan as the whole-hearted advocate of the administration currency bill, in his letter read in the house caucus; the united front presented by the democratic leaders of the house against amendments to the currency measure, and the complete success of the senate democrats in supporting the free sugar and other contested points of the tariff bill, have advanced the two big reforms a long way toward completion, it is claimed.

Chairman Simmons of the senate finance committee, today predicted the senate could complete the tariff bill and pass it by September 5, and the measure could be finished by the conference committee and signed by President Wilson by September 15. Only unforeseen delay in debate will prevent the tariff bill from becoming a law by that time, in the opinion of Senator Simmons.

Spirit of Harmony.

A spirit of harmony has been established in consideration of the bill in the senate. This has taken out of the debate much of the personal bitterness which usually characterizes a tariff fight. The republicans will make a supreme effort to change the free wool and cotton and all woolen tariff rates late this week, when the La Follette-Penrose, Smoot and Catron substitute measures will be submitted and voted on.

Democratic leaders declare, however, there will be no break in their ranks, and that there is no chance of the tariff bill being changed in any of its important details. To hasten the completion of the bill the democratic members of the finance committee will meet each night this week to take up unfinished schedules, and a caucus of democratic senators will be held late in the week to pass on changes that the committee may decide to recommend.

With the end of the tariff revision fight in view, members of the senate are devoting themselves to a preliminary study of the currency question, and preparing for the consideration of the bill now under fire in the house caucus.

Proposals of Bankers Not Liked.

Many suggestions for changes in the administration plan have been offered by members of senate throughout the week; and in a series of committee conferences, to be continued during the coming week, these suggestions will be further considered.

Few of the changes advocated by the bankers' conference in Chicago will receive favorable consideration from the democratic forces in the senate. Chairman Owen is unalterably opposed to any idea of changing the federal board of control so banking interests would have a share in the management, or to creating a currency to be issued by the banks instead of the federal government. It is believed a large majority of the senate will adhere to the plan for treasury notes rather than notes to be issued by the banks.

Senator Shafroth, a majority member of the currency committee, tomorrow will introduce in the senate a proposed plan for the retirement of all existing currency, except silver certificates and the issuance of a general form of treasury notes secured by a 50 per cent gold reserve.

Treasury Notes for Bank Notes.

Senator Shafroth's bill also would substitute treasury notes at once for all outstanding national bank notes, and would cancel the government bonds that now form the security for the national bank currency. He said today his bill would save $14,800,000 in the interest now paid by the government on bonds used to secure national bank currency, a sum that would be increased to $22,246,000 if the 2 per cent bonds were refunded with 3 per cent.

"It would take the control of the currency out of the hands of the banks and place it in the government's," said Senator Shefroth. "It will satisfy the bankers, because it would cash their 2 per cent without loss."

Many requests for hearings have been received by members of the senate committee. Among these are requests from officers of leading labor organizations. One such letter from H. T. J. Dolan, of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Steamshovel and Dredgemen, said, in part:

"The working men of the country are just as much if not more interested in the pending currency measure than any other class, as they are the people who deposit their earnings in the savings banks of the country. I believe if representative men of the different classes of people interested in this measure were invited to participate in a conference great good would come from it."

R. H. HARRIS NAMED CHAPLAIN GENERAL

Thomasville, Ga., August 24.—(Special.)—Dr. Robert H. Large Audience Enjoys Recital Given by E. Seton Blyth Sunday

A large and appreciative audience heard E. Seton Blyth, the Scotch organist, at the free organ recital Sunday afternoon in the Auditorium-Armory.

Mr. Blythe's technique and expression easily places him among the world's best organists. With a program ranging from the lighter offerings to the more difficult "Sonata Da Camera," by Peace, he displayed a grasp of musical expression that is rarely heard.

In his first offering, "Grand Offertoire," by Lefebure Wely, Mr. Blyth brought out the bright, sparkling vein of the French school with his tone colorings and brilliant touch.

Selection Pleases.

The "Andantino in D Flat," by Lemare, was another favorite which pleased his audience, but in the two next numbers, Gaul's "Adoration from The Holy City," and Flagler's "Alpine Pastoral" he reached a height of musical expression which in the vernacular of the day "brought the house down."

Handel's "Largo" from "Xerxes," a well-known favorite, was rendered gracefully, the tone effects being especially well emphasized.

While Harker's "Twilight," given in a pleasing manner, and Mascagni's ever-popular intermezzo from "Cavaleria Rusticana" were received with applause due their skillful rendering. It was in Peace's "Sonata Da Camera" that he reached his fullest powers of expression. In each of the several movements embodied in the selection Mr. Blyth showed a grasp of technique seldom seen. This was by far his best offering, pleasing the general music lover and the critical artist alike. His rendition merited the thunderous applause received.

Graceful Ending to Program.

His finale, Grey's "Chant Angelique" or "Angel's Chant," as it is more generally known, was a graceful ending to a pleasing program. Mr. Blyth accentuated the melody throughout with deft touch, ending with the principal melody on the full organ.

Mr. Blyth's recital was one of the most pleasing from all viewpoints given in Atlanta in some time and was a genuine treat to those who heard him.

It was announced during a recess that the following organists will be heard in the next three Sundays, in the order named: Ferdinand Duncan, city organist of Seattle; Charles Reynolds, of Orange, N. J., and Frederick Hall, of Haddon Heights, N. J. The Atlanta Music Festival association extends a cordial invitation to all to attend these concerts, which will be given each Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

GOOD RECORDS MADE IN CAMP PERRY SHOOT

Camp Perry, Ohio, August 24.—Lieutenant Colonel William Libbey, one of the executive members of the National Rifle association, left camp last evening for New York city to meet the teams from Switzerland, Sweden and France and representatives of Germany, which teams will arrive here the latter part of the week.

Shooting on the range here this year has been exceptionally good. Over ninety per cent of the shots fired have been in the bullseyes, other years there have been two-thirds as many white pasters used as black ones.

The famous New York rifle team, with Colonel M. B. Thurston as team captain, arrived today. Colonel Thurston is also captain of the Palma team, which will be made up after the tryout this week.

The national matches open Monday morning with the individual championship match. Much time will be devoted this week to practice for the international events which open September 1.

LOOKING FORWARD.

As strange as it may seem, few people live in the present. Those under a certain age—which differs with individuals—live in the future. Those who have passed that certain age—whatever it may be—live in the past.

"Let's live while we are livin'," exclaimed the gaunt hunter, to his lean wife and ten hungry children, the day he brought home one small gray squirrel. And they did. They cooked that squirrel, and ate every bite of it. It is all right to live while we are living, provided we live within our means. The present is for use, not abuse.

"Let's talk over old times," suggests one comrade to another. And they do. In winter, in some sunny nook out of the path of the wind, or in summer, in some shady spot away from the noise and the dust, they chuckle over the pangs of hunger that were so real back in the sixties.

The present flying, and the past gone, forever, what is left for us? The future is left—the big, boundless future. And what does the future hold in store for us? Hamlet tried to guess. We do not know it all. Then, what can we do? We can look forward.

Look forward for what? Now, that depends, pretty largely, upon what we are now doing. If, at present, we are squandering money, health and character, we may look forward to poverty, disease, and disgrace. If, on the other hand, we are careful of money, health and character, we may reasonably look forward to better times.

An uninteresting past is bad enough, an unprofitable present worse, but a blank future, a hopeless future, a future that contains nothing pleasant to which we can look forward, is the worse thing a mortal can face.

One of the greatest blessings of this mysterious and sometimes drab-colored and philosophy-shredder thing that we call life, is that each individual can pretty well determine today what to expect tomorrow.

TO ENGLAND'S SHAME.

The love of money is, today, the root of at least two great evils in England. The first and greatest of these evils is the forcing of opium from India upon China; the second is the utterly inconsistent attitude of England toward the United States in regard to the Boxer Indemnity.

The situation is just this: England, possibly in good faith, made a misleading promise to China in regard to the opium traffic from India. Then, when the anti-opium deputation called upon England's secretary of state for foreign affairs, citing the generous act of the United States in regard to the indemnity, and suggesting a similar course for England with respect to the opium traffic, they received an acid note to the effect that the United States had played a sharp Yankee trick in remitting a part of the American claims, and then curried favor with China.

If we had declined our share of the indemnity it would have reflected upon the integrity of the six nations receiving more than we did and the five receiving less. In accepting it, we felt that we were imposing upon a poor, feeble nation. We had to make the best of a delicate situation. This we did by surrendering a part of our share to China, to be used for the benefit of Chinese students in the United States.

If Sir Edward Grey, England's foreign secretary, cares to know of the moderation and even the indulgence of the United States toward China, at the close of the Boxer insurrection, and of Great Britain's insisting, with the other members of the triple alliance and with Germany, upon signal punishment of certain Chinese officials, he can find the story full and faithfully told in the "Encyclopedia Brittanica," by Sir Valentine Chirol, an English authority on modern Chinese history.

But what has all this to do with England's opium traffic? Not a thing! It is simply the straw at which the national conscience of Great Britain is grasping.

The shameful opium situation is this: Under a revised treaty, 1916 was to see the end of India's traffic with China in opium. The consignment of chests was to be gradually reduced from year to year. This, notwithstanding the declaration of Mr. Montagu that the opium traffic was already dead and would remain so if China would rid herself of her indigenous poppy.

Yuan Shi Kai hates opium. Years ago he made opium smoking in the army a capital offense. Recently he has employed large bodies of troops in rooting the plants out of the fields in opium growing sections. Great provinces have been swept clean of the poppy. China has much to do yet in suppressing the cultivation and use of opium, but she has steadfastly shown her sincerity and England should keep the promise made.

While claiming that she is abiding by her agreement, England, the enlightened nation, dealing with a poor, struggling people, is evading the agreement by means of silly subterfuge. While opium is not being shipped from India into China, England is demanding that $40,000,000 worth of Indian opium that Hindu-Hebrew dealers had accumulated in Shanghai and Hong Kong, before the agreement, be now added to retail in China. China has offered to bear the expense of shipping the opium back to India. England refuses the offer. Lieutenant General Chang, publicly pleading for his people, says China would buy the opium and burn it if she had the money.

When England is trying to force the sale of poison in China, against the will and the law of China, she is doing so to their sorrow and her shame.

CODDLING CRIMINALS.

Chairman Randall, the new head of the prison commission of Massachusetts, proposes a prison system which is new and somewhat revolutionary:

"Persons convicted of crime," declares Mr. Randall, "should be dealt with by the courts no further than the point where a court finds that a particular individual committed a specified criminal act.

"The object of imprisoning such convicted persons should be first to change the anti-social temper of those who can be changed, and to send them back into society as soon as it is safe for society, through their changed attitude, for them to be at large.

"The second object should be to remove permanently from the social freedom they have abused, those convicted persons who, through various defects, are incapable of keeping out of crime when they are at large; and, in addition, those who cannot be persuaded to live up, genuinely, their anti-social attitude.

"Sentences for particular terms, or to particular institutions should not be imposed by a judge when a person has been convicted of committing a crime or misdemeanor.

"All convicted persons should be turned over to a commission charged with full responsibility for their care and custody under an indeterminate sentence, with authority to release them at such time and on such terms, and after such discipline and moral education as would substantially guarantee their future harmlessness to society."

In support of his suggestion that the judge should be relieved of fixing the sentence, Chairman Randall argues that, for the judge, it is an unscientific duty. He is forced to do a work, promptly and often with insufficient data, that could better be done by a commission who would place the convicted person under observation and examination, and dispose of him as seemed best. Under the present plan the judge fixes a sentence upon a man whom he does not know, and upon whom he cannot tell in advance what effect the imprisonment will have; sentences him for a fixed number of years, and to an institution with which he (the judge) may not be familiar.

In a further discussion of his plan, Chairman Randall says:

"The courts seem to have a higher appreciation of the maxim that it is better for ninety-nine guilty men to escape than for one innocent man to suffer, than they have for the fact that if ninety-nine guilty men do escape more than one innocent man will suffer."

Mr. Randall does not propose that his state dispense with her judges and lawyers, whom he regards as experts in their important and necessary work. The determining whether or not an unlawful act, involving serious moral turpitude, has been committed, and if so by whom, he would leave to the machinery of the court. After that he would place the convicted person in the hands of a commission with time and ability to distinguish between badness and madness, weakness and viciousness.

Finally, he would have a series of custodial asylums, reformatories, prison camps and hospitals, to which prisoners could be assigned according to age, sex, crime and misdemeanor, allowing the prisoner to be transferred from one place of detention to another as occasion might demand or good conduct warrant.

This all sounds very nice, but there is lots of moonshine about it. The sentimentalists are devoting more time to the criminal than to his victim, and at the present rate it will not be long before we reach the period where a chromo will be awarded for every violation of the law.

Some men are mean enough to ask the woman in the tight skirt to dance the tango.

The Lights of Joytown.

The lonesome shadows called him where the mourners come and go
And the midnight-owls are many, and the flowers fear to grow.

But over the dreary shadows he heard glad bells a-ringing—
He saw the Lights of Joytown and he journeyed there, a-singing.

Bright beamed the lights
Through the stormy nights,
And ever more of dangers o'er the winsome bells were ringing.

"Welcome, ye Lights of Joytown!" the travellers cried afar,
"Blooming in life's darkness when the storm has drowned the star!"
And "Welcome!" on the highways of life rang clear and high—
Green fields and meadows and a glory-glimpse of sky.

And bright beam the lights
Still, through stormy nights,
And Sorrow, fading far away, is murmuring,
"Good-by!"

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet

ODIUS COMPARISONS

"I do wish," exclaimed Mrs. Turnover, "that you could get up energy enough to use the garden hose for an hour every morning. The lawn is burning up and the grass roots will die, and the flower beds are already near ruined. You sit on the porch every morning reading your silly newspapers when you should be sprinkling the lawn. Mr. Casowary, across the street, gives his lawn a good soaking every morning, and see how green and thrifty it is!"

"I deplore your habit of holding up the neighbors as shining examples, my dear," said Turnover, patiently, as he cut the leaves of a new book. "Comparisons are odious, as Shakespeare or Ella Wheeler or somebody said, and they are doubly odious when used by a wife and mother, with the intention of placing her husband in a bad light. No husband is perfect. Go where you will, on land or on sea, and you'll never see a married man who measures up to all the requirements.

"Choosing a husband is about as risky a business as buying a horse. Every horse has something the matter with it. If it isn't blind in one eye, it is deaf in one ear, or it hasn't a spavin on its hind leg, it has a ringbone on the front one; if it doesn't shy at the automobiles it has fits when it encounters a traction engine. The trouble with when he buys a horse, expects some blemish to be thrown in, and is thankful if it isn't too bad a one.

"The wise woman, when she secures a husband, should sustain her soul by a similar brand of philosophy. She can't reasonably expect a perfect husband. If her man hasn't a glass eye, he is pretty sure to have a celluloid teeth; if he doesn't whittle in the kitchen you may expect him to smoke in the parlor.

"I am glad to learn that Mr. Casowary has one redeeming feature. It is encouraging to know that he lavishes the wealth of his affection upon the lawn, and seek that he keeps it green. Keep green, with such a husband should be happy, and I don't wonder that you envy Mrs. Casowary. Yet the truth is, my dear, that her husband doesn't stack up very high in this town. People say that he is an idle, trifling individual, and that it would be a waste of good powder to blow him into space. They don't know how diligent he is with the garden hose, or they might render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and admit that Casowary is an ornament to society.

"He is by nature and training a carpenter, and it is the general theory that he is an excellent one, and if he would work at his trade his family might be rich in the lap of luxury. But he won't work at his trade, and so his family lack the opportunity to bask in the lap aforesaid. In the summer he goes fishing nearly every day, and comes back home in the evening with twenty-three cents' worth of fish. Had he worked at his trade while he was fishing, he'd have earned $3 or $4, and it wouldn't be necessary for Mrs. Casowary to take in washing.

"In the winter this excellent man, whose achievements with the garden hose have made his name a household word, takes a shotgun and goes hunting rabbits. He travels on foot all over the county, and if he has particularly good luck, he brings home rabbits to the value of eighteen cents. Of course, when we deduct the cost of the ammunition, the profit seems insignificant, but let not ambition mock his useful toil, my beloved. Let us remember that in the use of the garden hose he has few equals and no superiors.

"I have my faults, I know, but I submit that I don't feed my family on fish all summer and rabbits all winter, and I have never expected the wife of my bosom to take in washing or do custom scrubbing—"

But Mrs. Turnover had left the room and the door slammed after her.

Bright Business Outlook.

Is it time for business men to take courage and proceed with vigor to work out our manifest destiny? I think so, and among others, for the following reasons:

The public mind, which periodically has been disturbed by fear of a democratic administration, has become convinced of the wisdom and quiet strength of the president, Mr. Wilson, and his ability to handle his party and secure enactment of laws which for one or two decades have been as inevitable as was some years ago the emancipation of the slaves—inevitable because the country had outgrown the tariff and currency laws. The country has braced itself for the change, and fear has largely given place to confidence.

The settlement of the Balkan war without disturbing the concert of action of the powers will cause the hoarded gold to be speedily returned to the channels of trade. The production of gold throughout the world is at its maximum so far.

The preparedness of every one for a tight money market will in all probability prevent the expected happening. The desire of the administration is to aid in moving the crops, not to utter a crisis, but before one.

It is altogether probable that a reasoned tariff will lead to greater efficiency in manufacturing, and consequently to larger exports, as well as to larger imports. The $4,250,000,000 foreign trade of this year is likely to be largely exceeded.

The railroad returns give evidence of an enormous volume of business done while every one has been afraid of his shadow. If this continues, the demands of labor can be successfully met.

The price of pig iron apparently struck bottom about two months ago. The stock market looks as if it, too, had struck bottom at about the same time, and it has an almost unstable way of indicating the future by six or eight months before any change is apparent to the individual observer.

With the elimination of most of the evils that have beset us and the vanishing of those of the imagination, it is my belief that the restless spirit of the American people will break forth in renewed activity.

The large question to what extent the floating capital of the world has become fixed is one most difficult to gauge, as we have got so lately entered the present era of colossal commercialism, as well as that of extravagance—extravagance, not alone of the few who can afford it, but of the masses who cannot. The reserve strength with us has not the subdivision of the soil and the stocking of the French, nor yet their untiring industry, but we are alert, intent and ready for all resource.

Beefsteak at Fifty Cents.

(From The Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

Cheap cuts of beefsteak will cost 50 cents a pound this winter, according to the prediction of a Philadelphia representative of a large Chicago packing house. The most pronounced shortage of beef ever known in America is expected by dealers and packers. Cheaper cuts that now cost 16 cents will not be purchased under 18 or 20 cents, they say. The unusual condition is attributed to the loss of pasturage in the west, due to hot weather and subsequent drouth.

Go On, Rub It In!

The government report on crop conditions has sent corn up 15 cents per bushel already. What will you pay for it next year, Mr. All-Cotton Farmer?

The World's Mysteries

"THE LADY OF MALTA."

Was there a "Lady of Malta?" Does the present King George of England have a morganatic wife? Many sensational stories to that effect appeared in print from time to time during the last twenty years, and they were revived with especial force about the time of his accession to the throne three years ago.

The story that was circulated was to the effect that the present King George, when he was a young prince serving in the British navy, married the daughter of a distinguished officer of the navy, while his vessel was stationed at Malta, and it was further stated that the woman who was given the name of "The Lady of Malta" was living at the time when he married Princess Mary of Teck in 1893. According to the story there were two children born to this union, who have been handsomely provided for by the reigning house. While some of the stories failed to mention who was "The Lady of Malta," others proclaimed that she was Mary, the eldest daughter of Admiral Sir Michael Culme-Seymour, whose rapid promotion and high favor at court subsequent to George's marriage to Queen Mary are attributed to his phancy and discretion in connection with his daughter's royal entanglement.

But is there any truth in the story? In June, 1910, a writer who was connected with the English diplomatic service wrote and had printed a long article in which he branded the story as containing not a word of truth, and that the "Lady of Malta" was a creature of the imagination.

To begin with, Admiral Culme Seymour was in command of the British naval force in the Pacific during the whole of the time that George spent in the Mediterranean—that is to say from January, 1886, until the late fall of 1888. Besides, neither Lady Seymour nor her daughters, the eldest of whom was only 12 years in 1886, and 14 when George left the Mediterranean service, were within a thousand miles of Malta during the period in which the prince's romantic marriage is said to have taken place.

Moreover, the daughter of Admiral Sir Michael Culme-Seymour whose name was so *freely used as having been the morgan*atic wife of King George and as having borne him children, has been married for thirteen years to Captain Trevelyan D. W. Napier, now at the head of the Royal Naval college at Dartmouth.

For several years after his marriage Captain Napier was one of the commanders of the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, where he was constantly in contact with the various members of the reigning house, particularly with the present king, which could scarcely have been agreeable for him or for them had there been the slightest foundation to the story that his wife was the "Lady of Malta."

How the former Miss Mary Seymour's name ever came to be connected with this story of King George's secret marriage at Malta it is difficult to say. One thing that assisted in keeping the story alive was the peculiarly stilted language of Archbishop Benson, of Canterbury, who used very little tact when he issued a public statement in 1893 before marrying the present King and Queen to the effect that the royal bridegroom had never previously been married.

The archbishop delivered himself of this manifesto with the sole object of clearing himself of the imputation of having officiated at the wedding of Princess Mary to Prince George, knowing that the story was circulated that the Prince had a wife and children living at the time. The archbishop neglected to consult George himself, the late King Edward or Queen Alexandria about the affair beforehand. Indeed, they are known to have been justly angry with him and to have found great difficulty in pardoning his lamentable lack of judgment and of discretion.

For several years nothing was heard of the story of the "Lady of Malta." At the time he was supposed to have contracted a marriage he was only twenty-one years old. Like most young men of his age and rank in the service, he indulged in mild flirtations at Malta. He was full of life and of mischief at that age and by no means over weighed down with a sense of his dignity as a prince of the blood. Of course, he was more devoted to some pretty girls than to others, and quite naturally the wives of the officers stationed at Malta stationed at Malta gossiped over their teacups and criticised him for according so much more attention to mere girls than to their own more mature charms.

Malta has always been considered a hotbed of malevolent tittle-tattle, more so than practically any other station, owing to the circumscribed character of the island and the difficulty of people getting away from one another. It is no doubt at these Malta tea tables that Dame Gossip went to the length of insisting that some mite of a girl had invelgled the royal lad into secretly marrying her. This is undoubtedly how the story originated. It is not impossible that such a marriage could have taken place and the affair been hushed up by the British government, but the story of the "Lady of Malta" is generally disbelieved.

ADVERTISE

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

A great modern force is Advertising—the art of convincing other people of the merit back of what you have for them. Effective advertising is effective truth-telling.

Advertise.

Advertising not only strengthens the existing confidence back of an article but it creates more confidence. The more Advertising you do the more confidence you create. And the securing of confidence is the securing of success.

Advertise.

Some of the greatest inventions of history have existed—do exist—but are unknown—things that might have pushed civilization forward by years and years—lost and buried through lack of Advertising.

Advertise.

The concern with the courage to advertise must first have something worth advertising. And the concern that regularly and persistently continues to Advertise the thing that is worth Advertising, accumulates a capital more tremendous than millions of dollars—the Good Will and Enthusiasm of users.

Advertise.

You who have abilities and talents—Advertise them. But bear in mind that it is the work accruing from your abilities and talents *that Advertises you. It is the pro*duct and not the concern that counts in Advertising, and you can well afford to eliminate yourself as long as the high principles of your character stand out separately and clearly and so long as the results of your work are sent out to other people.

Advertise.

Chinese Rugs.

(From The Indianapolis News.)

Chinese rug factories are small, generally only having twelve to twenty workmen. The largest rug factory in Tien-Tsin, says a consular report, employs seventy men. The proprietors do not understand English, and prefer to do business through some foreign firm. The advantage of this practice to both buyer and seller is that the firm stands responsible for the delivery of goods and also for the prompt payment therefor. There are two firms which handle Tien-Tsin rugs in a somewhat larger way, neither of which have factories of their own. They simply make contracts with the native manufacturers to furnish a given number of given dimensions, and of stated pattern.

The wool rugs are made from the wool of sheep and camels. The camel's wool is generally used in its natural color, which makes a beautiful grayish-brown background for a pattern. The warp is always cotton, the filling being wool. Where colored patterns are used, they are usually of sheep wool, dyed to the proper tint. The dyes used by the manufacturers are aniline, and are not guaranteed as being fast colors. The price is always by the square foot, and is primarily based on the number of threads of warp to the yard in width. The prices paid to the manufacturer range from 60 cents upward. These rugs are made in all sizes from 2x2 feet to 20x20 feet, or any other size which may be required. These prices are those which must be paid to the manufacturers themselves. In the case of an exporter he must, of course, charge his commission, then the government levies an export duty of 5 per cent, required on all goods sent out of China, the hire of coolies, the packing in bales, etc.

Some Swim.

Two negro roustabouts at New Orleans were continually bragging about their ability as long-distance swimmers, and a steamboat man got up a match. The man who swam the longest distance was to receive $5.

The Alabama Whale immediately stripped on the dock, but the Human Steamboat said he had some business and would return in a few minutes. The Whale swam the river four or five times for exercise, and by that time the Human Steamboat returned.

He wore a pair of swimming trunks and had a sheet-iron cook stove strapped on his back, and around his neck were a dozen packages containing bread, flour, bacon and other eatables. The Whale gazed at his opponent in amazement.

"Whars yo' vittles?" demanded the Human Steamboat. "Vittles fo' what?" asked the Whale. "Don't yo' ask me fo' nothin' on the way ovah," warned the Steamboat. "Mah fust stop is New York an' mah next stop is London."

Ponderous Personages

QUEEN ELIZABETH

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

Queen Elizabeth reigned in England in the sixteenth century, and put that country so thoroughly on the map that it has since then run all over it like the color of a fast black stocking.

Elizabeth, according to her friends, was a beautiful queen, but many of her critics, who looked their heads during her reign, left private advices to the effect that she had red hair and a mole, and was not as graceful as a hatrack. She was the daughter of Henry VIII by his wife No. 1, Serjeb B., but this did not provide her with much of a home after her father's death. For some time her half-sister Mary, who was very fatal to her relatives, intended beheading her, but she put the job off too long, and when Mary died Elizabeth became queen.

Being queen of England at that time was no sinecure, for England was a small country and its powerful rivals, such as Holland, France and Spain, took great pleasure in knocking it around. However, Elizabeth paid strict attention to the army and navy, and did not load it down with personal friends of congressmen. As a result England whipped nothing within reach and chased Spain's fleet into hitherto unexplored oceans.

Elizabeth naturally became very popular, and received many offers of marriage. But she was tricky with the boys and never let on she could do was to become a sister to a large assortment of gallant English dukes, most of whom died by request when sister got peeved. Shakespeare, who were not busy licking Spain during her reign, devoted themselves to literature and Elizabeth got first peep at all of Bill Shakespeare's new plays.

Elizabeth reigned until she became very old, and while she never married, she never entirely closed the door. She died greatly beloved, but history would be kinder to her if she had not, in a careless moment, signed the death warrant of her cousin, Mary. Mary ran the neighboring kingdom of Scotland until it got too strong for her, and then she came to Elizabeth for protection. Elizabeth was very kind to her, and allowed her to wear a beautiful black velvet gown while being executed. Being relative and a monarch in those days was more unhealthy than the possession of a taste for aviation is today.

"Elizabeth got first peep at all of Bill Shakespeare's new plays."

When Life Was Young.

(From The Worcester Democrat.)

Some of us as we grow older become so oppressed by the cares and sorrows of mature life that we quite forget the days of our youth. The pains and pleasures of childhood seem so trivial that we fail to realise that a child's sorrows are as keen and probably keener than anything we know in adult life. We forget the exquisite joy that a new toy gave us and the palpitating pleasures of a visit to town, the ecstatic delight of a day in the woods. And we forget, too, the depth of anguish that came with each disappointment.

And So the Pedestrian Jumps.

(From The Elberton Star.)

An Augusta judge has decided that a pedestrian has as much right to the public highway as the automobilist. To be sure, the trouble is in getting the man in the auto to agree with the judge.

Well, Hoke Is Used to It.

(From The Greensboro Herald.)

"We stand at Armageddon and battle for the Lord" is in it no longer. The pie-hunters have it skinned forty blocks. The new spiel is "We stand at Hoke Smith's gate and yell like h—l for pie."

OPERATOR IS KILLED A MYSTERIOUS WAY

Scottsville, Va., August 24.—Richard W. Harrison, telegraph operator in the Chesapeake and Ohio railway station here, was shot and instantly killed while on duty early today.

The train sheets showed that he had copied a train order at 2.35 a. m., and at 3 o'clock when a freight conductor went to the office he found Harrison lying on the floor dead, with an automatic revolver in his hand.

The bullet entered the right shoulder and glanced downward, and there was nothing to indicate that the wounds had been self-inflicted, especially when no empty shell could be found. Nothing in the office was stolen.

Man-Killer Captured.

Asheville, N. C., August 24.—Haggard and worn from a night spent in the mountains, John Waldroup, slayer of R. F. Smathers at Canton last night, was captured this morning near Sunburst, about 30 miles from here, after an all night hunt by an armed posse. He was taken to Waynesville where he is held in the county jail without bond.

No General Strike.

Erie, Pa., August 24.—A decision not to call a general strike of all Erie trades unions was reached at a special meeting of the central labor union this afternoon. It was the opinion of executive committee of the body that such a move would jeopardize the moulders' strike. The strike situation was quiet today.

U. S. Soldiers Ready On Mexic Border

American troops along the Mexican border are prepared for action at any moment in connection with the Mexican situation. The attitude of Provisional President Huerta, of Mexico, toward the American government led United States officers here to believe that intervention was bound to come sooner or later. All told, over 10,000 United States regulars were ready for action. The Eleventh United States cavalry was under constant orders to be ready to cro the border. The aviation corps h its planes in war trim, and many trial flights were made for scouting purposes. The type of rebel soldier shown in the accompanying illustration is of the outlaw brand, wily and treacherous, and it was thought such mountain fighters as these would give the United States troops most trouble in case of war.

LYNCHING THREATENED FOR THE USUAL CRIME

La Plata, Md., August 24.—Openly threatening a lynching, scores of farmers, carrying pitchforks, guns and rope, beat through the woods of Charles county last night and today in a hunt for William Thomas, a negro, 23 years old, charged with a brutal attack on the wife of Samuel Boswell, a farmer near Indian Head.

Thomas was captured by Constable Carpenter late today, about 10 miles from where the assault took place, was placed in an automobile and hurried to La Plata by side roads to avoid the searching parties of farmers.

The negro's incarceration in the jail here did not become known until late tonight, and officials express confidence that no attack will be made upon the jail.

According to a statement by Constable Carpenter, Thomas entered the Boswell home yesterday during the absence of Boswell and attacked the wife. In the presence of her three small children she struggled with the negro for half an hour and just as her strength was about to give out the husband rushed in.

A fight ensued between the two men. Boswell was badly worsted. Thomas is said then to have boasted that he would carry out his purposes. Boswell made a break for the kitchen and grabbing a carving knife, returned to the living room where Thomas stood. The negro, when he saw the knife, ran from the house.

EMMA BUNTING IS HERE TO OPEN LYRIC SEASON

Emma Bunting, Atlanta's favorite little comedienne, arrived in Atlanta last night with her company, under the management of Harry Sloan, and will open the season at the Lyric next Monday in Sydney Grundy's famous play, "The Circus Girl."

This is one of the best plays in Miss Bunting's repertoire, and with the addition of a strong leading man in the person of George Whittaker, and a good cast, most of whom will be new to Atlantans, the play should score a success from the opening night. Miss Bunting is well remembered in Atlanta, and will, no doubt, have a capacity audience next Monday night when the curtain rises on the first act of "The Circus Girl."

After the week's engagement in Atlanta, Miss Bunting will play a week in Birmingham, and then go to New Orleans, where she will play at the Dauphine theater in permanent stock.

WORLD'S CONGRESS ON SCHOOL HYGIENE

Buffalo, N. Y., August 24.—Nearly every civilized nation in the world will be represented at the fourth international congress on school hygiene, which opens formally here tomorrow and will continue throughout the week. Leading scientists, educators and physicians will participate in the discussions of the work of giving boys and girls healthy bodies along with educated minds. Foreign nations have recognized the congress by sending delegates and the United States will be represented by Secretary William B. Wilson, of the department of labor, who will welcome the visitors on behalf of the national government. Delegates from foreign countries will respond.

A special car carrying twenty teachers and doctors from Kansas City arrived tonight. A philanthropist of that city recently gave an anonymous sum of $1,000 to finance the trip. Among the subscriptions to defray expenses of the congress was one of ,000 from John D. Rockefeller.

In fifteen local churches today addresses on subjects dealing with school hygiene were made by delegates to the congress.

The commercial and scientific exhibit which was arranged under the direction of Dr. Charles B. Dressler, of the United States bureau of education, is one of the most complete of the kind ever shown.

MISSOURI LIFE LAWS SAID TO BE TOO STRICT

St. Louis, August 24.—As a sequel of the mysterious death of J. R. Lucas, a local grain broker, on a Frisco train near Valley Park, Mo., last Friday, agents of several accident insurance companies tonight threatened that their companies would withdraw from Missouri because of the severity of the state's life insurance laws.

The statute to which they object compels the payment of policies in suicide cases, except when fraud in taking out the policy is proven.

Companies in which Lucas' life was insured for about $100,000 are conducting an investigation with the hope of proving he committed suicide.

PROBING VICE CHARGE OFFICER IS WOUNDED

Denying Charge R. E. Maner Says Too Many People Were Looking Through Window.

While investigating a charge of immoral conduct Tuesday night at 10:30 o'clock Officer C. F. Preston was wounded by a shot fired by R. E. Maner, a white man 20 years of age, living at Gilmore station, who was calling on Miss Lemmie Hollingsworth, 42 Kennedy street.

In company with Officer Cochran, Preston had gone by appointment to the corner of Kennedy and Lee streets to meet Claud Leatherwood, of 44 Kennedy street. Leatherwood charged that a girl and young man, whose name he did not know, had conducted themselves in an indecent manner several times in full view of his family and that he wanted the officers to see for themselves what was going on. The officers, in company with Leatherwood, went into the yard of 44 Kennedy street and were investigating, when Cochran, who was in the rear of the yard, heard a shot and ran to the front of the house, where he met Preston, who told him that he had been shot by a pistol ball fired from the side window of the front room of 42 Kennedy street.

Going to the front of the house, the officers placed Maner under arrest. When taken he had a revolver in his hand and was advancing to the front door. He denies the report of any immoral conduct on the part of himself and the girl on whom he was calling and states that he fired because he had seen men looking in the windows several times before when he was calling on the girl.

The girl is nearly prostrated over the affair and was unable to make any statement last night. Maner was taken to the stationhouse and charged with assault and attempt to murder.

Officer Preson was taken to Grady hospital, where it was found that he had sustained only a flesh wound, the bullet entering the right hip and passing through the flesh about four inches, coming out on the other side. Young Maner is employed as a clerk by a dental supply house in the Austell building.

The negro and white man had a quarrel over a dog and both commenced shooting. The negro's aim was best and he killed the white man.

BLIND TIGER IN SHADOW OF CLARKE COUNTY JAIL

Athens, Ga., August 24.—(Special.) With the shadow of the county jail falling across the veranda where the patrons slipped in the dark to make their wants known after a three-rap alarm on the outer door, the police early this morning apprehended what they declare to be a full-strength tiger in operation. Adolph Parks was arrested, and though he gave up several pints left in stock and warned his prospective customers to stay out while the plain clothes man was closeted with him, he strenuously remonstrated when the officer tried to get possession of an innocent little slip of paper. The paper was a receipt for a large remittance to a liquor house for more supplies. He tried to get the receipts in his mouth for safe-keeping, but failed.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION
"The Standard Southern Newspaper"

The Crackers play eight games in six days this week. Every one is pulling for a clean sweep. It would certainly help.

Walter Johnson Wins Fourteenth

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

Our Chances.

THE CRACKERS have only a slim chance to overhaul the Gulls and finish out in front in the Southern league pennant race. The Crackers have 16 more games to play. Exclusive of any possible postponements, the Gulls have 14 games to play. If the Gulls only break even in these 14 games, their standing at the end of the season will be 81 won, 57 lost. If the Crackers win 13 out of the remaining 15 games, they will have exactly the same. So, you see what our chances are at a glance. It may happen. If it does, it will be pretty near a miracle.

Another Angle.

FIGURE the possibilities from another angle, however. The Gulls are here a week from tomorrow. The Crackers have eight games, the Gulls seven in that length of time. If the Crackers can gain two games on the Gulls before the series here starts, then old "crucial series" will pop right out in our midst again. But it would take a clean sweep by the Crackers to even tie the Gulls, granting that we catch up the other two games in the meantime. But harder propositions than this have been overcome in the past. Here's hoping.

Important Week.

THE PRESENT week is the all-important one. We have eight games in six days. It behooves us to get our burst and grab just as many as possible. Here's a chance to make hay while the sun shines. If we can slaughter the Turtles and the Pelicans, who, however, may refuse to be slaughtered, then our chances may be more rosy than they look now.

The Gull Menu.

THE GULLS, on the other hand, have a most strenuous week. They will meet Birmingham and Chattanooga, two clubs that are not as far up as high a ranking as they can possibly get. They know they cannot finish first, but they will try their durndest to grab the second rung. Therefore, the Gulls will find life anything pretty rough in those two cities.

The Billie Menu.

THE BILLIES, our real rivals for second place, also have a hard week ahead of them. They are in the same position as the Barons and the Lookouts. Molen's and Elberfeld's men realize they have a chance to climb by walloping Johnny Dobbs' crew. They will certainly pour it in if they are able. Prough and Hardgrove will be saved for the series by the Barons and Coveleskie and Sommers by the Lookouts.

The Real Chance.

OUR CHANCES really rest with what the Barons and the Lookouts can accomplish playing the Gulls and the Billies. We might not have any trouble winning a majority of the games this week. If the Lookouts and Barons can only check the Gulls and Billies, we ought to be in the running—my position safely and with still a faint look-in at the lead.

Race Closes.

THE EMPIRE STATE league's second season will come to a close Wednesday. The final series of games will be opened today. And coincident with the closing, the two pennant winners, Valdosta of the first half and Thomasville of the second half, will meet in the final series. They will give the members of both teams a chance to run up their opponents in the post season series and give the fans of the circuit some dope on the probabilities in the post series.

Has Saved Them.

THE GULLS can thank Southpaw Campbell that they have not slipped any lately. With Cavet ill, Robertson and Hogg only just about breaking even and Berger an uncertainty every time out, Campbell came to the rescue of the Pinnites. The halfback southpaw has won his last seven starts. If he can keep this clip up until Cavet returns to steady form, the Gulls' chances are brightest.

Population Increase.

THE PHILADELPHIA Public Ledger shows plainly that a winning ball club and one in good standing is the best advertisement that a city can have. Then show that when Baltimore was in the big leagues, behind the population increase was 17.2 per cent. In the last decade Baltimore had only an increase of 5.2, Cleveland 9% in the other hand, Cleveland has 46 per cent, Detroit 45 per cent and Boston 15 per cent. There is a close relation between good baseball and the growth in population.

The All-Star.

THE FOLLOWING all-star team has been submitted by a fan, and we doubt if it could be improved upon: Berger, catcher; Long, Welchonce and Robertson, pitchers; Third base, Smith; Atlanta; shortstop, Blalock, of Atlanta; second base, Wares of Montgomery; first base, Agler, of Atlanta; catcher, Schwitzer, of Montgomery; and Chapman, of Atlanta. Pitchers, Cavet, of Mobile; Coveleskie, of Chattanooga; left-handers, E. Brown, of Montgomery; Dent, of Atlanta, and Prough, of Birmingham, right-handers. Weed up this club carry our money anywheres.

Pittburg 7, Bridgeport 4.

Bridgeport, Conn., August 24.—The Pittsburg National league team defeated Bridgeport, of the eastern association, in an exhibition game here this afternoon 7 to 4. Bridgeport hit Cooper hard in the third for four runs, but after that could do nothing with him.

Turtles Play Four Games
FIELD DAY WEDNESDAY
With Crackers This Week

Bill Bernhard and his Memphis Turtles will be the opponents of the Crackers at Ponce de Leon this afternoon. In the first of a four-game series which will be the last meeting between the two teams this season.

The Turtles and the Crackers have engaged in sixteen battles this season, the locals winning 9 and the visitors 7. In the six games played at Ponce, the Crackers have won 5. In the 11 played at Red Elm, they won 4.

Gil Price will probably be selected to twirl against the Turtles in the opening game of the series, with Thompson working Tuesday. Dent Wednesday and Conselman Thursday.

Field Day Wednesday.

Wednesday will be field day at the park. The members of the Crackers and Turtles will participate in the field events, contesting for prizes that will be offered by local merchants.

There will be fungo hitting, for which Parks-Chambers-Hardwick company have offered two silk shirts to the winner.

100-yard dash, the winner to receive a hat donated by Law Brothers.

Circling the bases, the winner to receive a pair of shoes from Byck brothers.

Back race, fifty yards, the winner to receive $5.

Long distance throwing, the winner to receive a silk umbrella donated by George Muse Clothing company.

These events always attract considerable interest. They will be run off just before the game and will start at 3 o'clock. A large crowd is sure to be on hand.

The New Orleans Pelicans follow the Turtles to Ponce. They are scheduled for games Friday, Saturday and Monday, which is Labor day. And on each day there will be a double-header. The two games Labor day are scheduled as affairs. The added game Friday and Saturday are the ties that the Pels and Crackers played July 4.

Coming.

On Tuesday of the following week, the league leading Mobile Gulls come for four games, which, on the result of the games this week, may develop into a real crucial series, as it is possible that the Crackers may hit a winning streak, while the Gulls are slumping and these four games might decide the pennant.

The final game of the season on Saturday, September 6, will be with the Chattanooga Lookouts. The men of Scenic Field will probably save Harry Coveleskie for this game. If they do, he may be pitted against Elliott Dent.

Here is the probable batting order for today's game.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Nashville 3, Chattanooga 2.

Nashville, Tenn., August 24.—Though exceedingly wild in spots, Beck tightened up in the pinches in the game today with Chattanooga and the locals annexed the battle 3 to 2. Hofman returned to the game after several days' absence and it was his clouting that aided materially in winning the game. Howell pitched a fairly good game, but the locals got to him when the runs were needed.

Most Amazing and Thrilling Story Ever Written!

THE POISON BELT

By CONAN DOYLE

Creator of

Sherlock Holmes

"The Stillness and Silence of Universal Death— * * Challenger breathed two or three times with enormous Gulps."

Order At Once

BEGINS SEPTEMBER 7, IN THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION

WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY AFFORDED READERS OF SUNDAY CONSTITUTION

"The Poison Belt," Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's Latest and Greatest Story, Will Be Published in Generous Installments in the South's Standard Newspaper, Beginning With Sunday, September 7.

It isn't often that such a literary treat is offered to the readers of a Sunday newspaper as that now planned by the publishers of The Atlanta Constitution.

On Sunday, September 7, the first installment of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's latest story, "The Poison Belt," will be printed in The Constitution, and on each succeeding Sunday other generous installments will appear until this marvelous story is completed.

Stories by this gifted writer of fiction are so costly that only the most enterprising publishers care to make the large investment necessary to buy one of his masterpieces, and the people of the South are to be congratulated that they will have the first opportunity to read this entrancing story of mystery by simply buying The Sunday Constitution.

Sir Conan Doyle's price for "The Poison Belt" was $5,000, which stamps him at once as one of the highest-priced writers of the age—a writer whose words are veritable dollar marks, whose letters are nickels and dimes.

But this titled writer of mysterious romances and weird tragedies, of strange adventures and wonderful detective skill, cares little for the money end of the story business—he accepts it as a tribute to his genius as a word painter, as he accepted knighthood and the accompanying title from his king. His interest is in the strange characters he creates and the wonderful exploits he makes his fancied personages perform—in the weaving of mysterious plots of crime for a wonderful detective to unravel; in the delving into the past for characters to entrance and mystify the people of today.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle first became a great writer in the public mind through his creation of that mythical wonder—Sherlock Holmes—who at once became the model for detectives all over the world. The wonderful deductions of Holmes, which enabled him to solve mysterious crimes that baffled all other detectives, established among real detectives a new school of thought and action wherein a scientific basis was sought for the ferreting out of crimes of a mysterious nature.

SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE,
Creator of "Sherlock Holmes," "Professor Challenger" and Other Famous Characters of Fiction, and Author of Numerous Famous Masterpieces of Fiction.

Everybody knows about Sherlock Holmes, and almost everybody knows more or less about the man whose wonderful brain evolved the entrancing stories of which the famed sleuth was the central figure.

But Sherlock Holmes, great as he is or was, is only one of the peculiarly gifted mythical characters introduced to the public and made to seem as real persons of flesh and blood by this great English writer.

Sir Conan Doyle's stories of romance, adventure and mystery are numerous, and all have been highly popular, so popular indeed that he is now resting securely on that pinnacle of fame that inspires all writers to strive and strive in the hope that some time they will reach its dizzy heights and reap the reward they prize most—the acclaim of the world.

Most readers of The Constitution will vividly recall Sir Conan Doyle's marvelous story—"The Lost World"—which, for mysticism, adventure and romance, eclipsed that other wonderful story, "She," by H. Rider Haggard.

In this story, wherein his imaginary characters discovered a lost world in the hidden recesses of South America, he introduced a new character, at once as quaint and peculiar and as marvelous in his own particular way as Sherlock Holmes—Professor Challenger.

The story he told of the discovery of this lost world and of the adventures of the men who discovered it was so real that it seemed that it was recounting a historical fact, and it was difficult to believe that it was only a story.

And now this word-weaver, this marvelous picturer of things that might be, has written another great story of mystery that simply throbs with interest from the first word to the last.

Before the reader has glimpsed a dozen lines of "The Poison Belt," his interest is aroused; before the first chapter is perused he is absorbed in the mystery that beckons him on and on, and when he comes to the end of the installment he wonders why the entire story wasn't printed, even if it occupied the whole Sunday Constitution.

"The Poison Belt" will undoubtedly go down in history as the greatest of all the stories written by Sir Conan Doyle. Notwithstanding the many other entrancing mysteries he has evolved, and that each one eclipsed all other efforts, this last one seems to have embodied in its mystic interest the culmination of all his wonderful ability as a writer.

Professor Challenger, quaint, peculiar and interesting appears in the first chapter with a proposition that simply sets the mythical world agog. And that's enough to say that the reading public will hang upon the words written by Doyle until they come to "The End."

The publishers of The Constitution urge the public to send in their orders early for The Sunday Constitution. Although many thousand extra copies will be printed in order to accommodate those who will fail to take advantage of beginning with the first chapter on September 7, it is the experience of all that thousands will be disappointed as the extra copies will go quickly.

Remember the date—Sunday, September 7.

Farms and Farmers

Address all letters intended for this Department to Col. R. J. Redding, Editor of Farms and Farmers Department, Griffin, Georgia

OATS, OATS, SOW OATS!

The last words in my last week's article under the caption, "Corn, Oats and Company," were the caption itself, which, for the benefit of the unlearned is explained to mean that I would write on the same topic again in a little while. Meantime, that sterling agricultural journal, The Progressive Farmer, of Raleigh, N. C., comes out with an article from the pen of Judge Harry C. Hammond, of Augusta, Ga., under the caption, "Oats! Oats! Sow Oats!" and I have placed the same at the head of this article as a compliment to the judge. He is certainly on the right line, although we differ in some minor points about oats. He says the farmer "must sow oats to help out corn." I would prefer to sow oats on its merits and not as subsidiary to corn or any other crop. I have for many years believed that the oats should be considered one of the principal stock foods grown on the farm; second to none in value, and I suspect that at the bottom of his mind Judge Hammond is inclined to take the same view of the matter, judging from the unstinted praise he gives to oats. Hear him: "Oats are the standard of excellence for horses feed. Oats can be gathered and handled easier than any other crop on the farm; again, no worm, weevil or other insect attacks it when gathered. It is free from all these pests when growing, with the exception of the Hessian fly. Not only are oats palatable, but the nutriments they contain are in such proportion that this grain forms almost a balanced ration. I speak from many years of experience when I say that I have never known winter-killing to amount to anything where proper preparation and seeding were carried out." I do not think he sufficiently stresses the importance of following in open furrows, a method which this writer, while director of the Georgia Station, discovered and developed. Any grain drill that will sow our bearded oats (rather awned) will secure a stand all right, but the drill made for the purpose of sowing in open furrows is the only one that will secure absolute protection against winter killing.

Judge Hammond further says:

"I do insist that we can grow as good oats and as many to the acre as any country in the world." Again, he says: "I have just found out what our lands seem to want from anywhere else in the country. It's because we plant so much of it in cultivated crops—row crops. (You have been a good while finding that out, judge.) I will undertake, if not required to plant row crops, that I can take the worst gullied field, stop the washing and bring it into shape in two seasons by sowing oats in the winter, peas in the summer, or I will undertake to plow every terrace, fill up every storm-water ditch on the steepest slope and never have to wash a particle of it lowed to plant it in oats and peas. That's putting it pretty strong, but we will not make an issue on it.

I differ from Judge H. however, when he insists "don't thresh oats." When I'm in the shade of the cutting) I have found it impracticable to adjust the quantity so that there would be no lack of straw for the feeder and yet no waste of straw. It is true that oat straw is a good roughage, and one cannot afford to litter the stalls with oat straw so long as there are hungry cattle to eat it. Cutting with a hand-power machine is too laborious and slow. I used to have a buck and with a broad-axe decapitate the bundles at one stroke just about the middle so as to secure all the heads for feeding and the butts for "other purposes."

I have this commented on the article because it agrees with my own views and opinion; because I approve it and it approves me. My reason for again writing on "Oats" is to stir up the minds of farmers and not let them forget to make the necessary arrangements in good time to sow oats. Don't just sow a patch or two, or one or two acres to each plow, but sow as large an area as you expect to cover with corn, and you will not have to plant so much corn. What the heretofore non-cotton-grower wants is to get a good strain of Texas Rust-proof oats. I know of none that is better than the Appler and lay in enough seed at once allowing 11-2 to 2 bushels per acre. Sow with the seed in open-furrow a mixture of 200 pounds 16 per cent acid, 25 to 50 pounds of muriate of potash and 200 pounds of cottonseed meal per acre. In North Georgia and adjacent states between the same lines of latitude, September 15 to October 15 embraces the desirable time to sow. Through the middle cotton belt from October 1 to November 1. Little further south the seed may be put in as late as November 15. But the earlier the seed is put in the best date has passed, the less will be the yield of crop, as a rule.

I shall add that almost any well-constructed guano and seed distributor will sow oats in open furrows, one furrow at a time, but there are now two or three makes of open furrow, 2-horse oat drills that will carry the four open furrows, sowing seed and fertilizer at the same time.

Griffin, Ga. R. J. REDDING.

STAGGERS OF HOGS.

M. Anderson, Leesville, S. C.—I write you to know if you can tell me what ails my hogs. I have a hog that when it gets the staggers and its head gets one-sided. It gets the staggers for three or four days and cannot stand up to eat, and when it gets over that its head is one-sided.

Answer—Can tell me what kind of a disease it is and a cure for it. I will Answer—There are more than one disease of hogs that are called "staggers," and courses of the symptoms are identical. I suspect that your hog had apoplexy—due to over-feeding. The usual and usually sufficient treatment is bleeding. I have often relieved the staggering by marking the ears and cutting off the tail. In other words, bleeding is the remedy. Tie a string tightly above the knee of a fore leg and the vein will fill up. Then take a sharp-bladed, clean knife and make an incision into the vein sufficient to permit a free stream of blood to flow. Draw 1 to 1½ pints from a grown hog, less in proportion as it is younger and smaller. It is well to take about half the amount from each fore leg. Close the opening with a pin and thread wrapped around under the head and point.

LYMPHANGITIS, ELEPHANT LEG.

C. P. Foy, Mary's, Fla.—Please give me treatment for my horse that has had badly wolsien legs ever since I have owned him. Some people say it is big leg. Yet he limps sometimes. The ankles of his hind legs are awful large, and I cant keep the sores down.

Answer—Your horse doubtless suffered at some time in the past from an acute attack of lymphangitis, which but imperfect treatment (which might have been entirely relieved) has gone into the condition of permanent enlargement and induration. I know of no cure for it at the present stage. If you bought the horse while in that fix you were sold as well as the horse.

IMPACTION OF MANIPLIES OF COW.

L. D. Smith, Nashville, Ga.—Cows in my vicinity are all dying. I have one sick at the present. Would like to have your opinion and treatment at once.

They first begin by chewing and slobbering, and then they will hook anything they come to and rub their heads off on any post or tree. They live from twelve to twenty-four hours after first symptoms.

We have cut open some and the only indications of any trouble is the little maw or manyfold seems to be perfectly hard and dry and nothing can penetrate it.

Answer—The description you give indicates the disease known as "dry murrain," which consists of an impaction of the third stomach, or maniplies. I have seen more than one case which terminated fatally in a few hours, it often is the result of the animal filling its paunch with the wiry stems of Bermuda grass (during or after a dry spell) or other coarse, indigestible food, such as corn stalks or over-ripe hay, etc. The brain often becomes affected in sympathy with the stomach and the animal may plunge wildly about, stumbling against or over any object that may be in its way; hence sometimes called "mad itch."

Treatment: Give 1 quart of raw linseed oil with 2 drams fluid extract belladonna in it at a dose. Follow this with 1 pound of Epsom salts and 1½ drams of quinine dissolved in ½ gallon of cold water and give as one dose. If the animal is in great distress, give it 1 dram of the fluid extract belladonna in a pint raw linseed oil every four hours. If the physic does not operate within 12 hours, repeat the salts and quinine. Give all the cold water it will drink. If this disease be prevented for a few days the best remedies will be of no use as the secretions will have been arrested.

WEEVILS IN PEAS.

J. F. M., Arnaudelli, Ga.—The dry weather prevented my from sowing peas, and I want to keep them over for another year. I have treated them with bisulphide of carbon once in a box. Will I have to repeat it again? If so, when?

Answer—If the peas are shelled and are stored in tight boxes or barrels, it should not be necessary to repeat the treatment provided it was effectively done the first time. Examine the peas about once in two or three weeks when and if any weevils or other insects are found in them, repeat the treatment. Merely pour enough of the stuff on the bulging or from adjacent corn ears to protect the peas. If the latter be not fully protected. The best way to keep peas is to shell them and put them in tight barrels or boxes, or in bins constructed for the purpose, with no cracks or other openings through which insects may enter. But they should be inspected occasionally during the entire period of storage.

ECZEMA OF MULE.

D. E. Hicks, Prattville, Ala.—I have a mule 5 years old, weight 1,050 pounds. He eats well and is in good condition, but has a breaking out on his shoulders, front legs and neck. There comes lumps in the skin, the hair comes off and he wants to gnaw and rub all the time. Te has been that way ever since April. I have given him sulphur, but it doesn't seem to help but a few days.

Answer—Your mule probably has a form of eczema, one peculiarity of which is the fact that it is recurrent and it has a way that last a long time if not remedied. In some cases the skin will crack and in others lead to a thickening. In the early stage it is proper to give a physic consisting of a ounce each of aloes, ginger and common soda. Dissolve the whole in ½ pint of boiling water, add ½ pint of cold water and give as one dose. Follow the purging with a mixture of 4 ounces of hyposulphite of sodium, divided into twenty-four powders, one powder to be given night and morning in a small bran mash. Wash the affected portions of the skin with 1 ounce of carbonate of potash dissolved in 1 quart of water. Rub it well in and then use warm water to wash it off. Rub well dry. For the itching wash the itchy parts with a mixture of ½ ounce sugar of lead dissolved in 1 quart soft water, to which add 2 ounces of laudanum. For a chronic case give, 1 ounce of Fowler's solution of arsenic once a day in a bran mash and continue for one month.

COW'S MILK DOES NOT RIPEN PROPERLY.

Messrs. P. L. Edwards, Havana, Fla., and Andersonville, Ga.—I have a herd of which each has a milk cow whose milk behaves in a peculiar manner. Doubtless each relieves his milk vessels—churn, pails, pans, shelving and milkroom—and the place where his cow is kept at night to be clean and all right, but one cannot be too careful. If the cause lurks in the vessels connected with the keeping of the milk, and the surrounding woodwork, and the milk becomes infected by bad germs, it is a matter, sometimes, of considerable difficulty to suppress these bad bacterial germs and get everything started right. I generally advise that as soon as a thorough overhauling in the way of cleaning up has been accomplished to have a pint each of lime and salt put into the bottle a quart or so of nice, fresh buttermilk (or clabber) procured from a neighbor who has no such trouble, and put it into the milk that is to be set to ripen and churn, and thus start the right fermentation.

But the trouble may be in the cows themselves, from drinking stagnant or otherwise unclean and unwholesome water. Or there may be a dead carcass in the pasture, or a cow may draw her teats through stangant, marshy places and thus the teats become undesirable germ-laden. So no make sure I advise frequent milking, say three times a day—and the injection into each teat a few tablespoonfuls of a solution of 2 drams of hyposulphate of soda in 1 pint of water, the pint being sufficient for the four teats. Moreover, I would give each cow (give by the way of the mouth) 2 drams of bisulphite of soda for three or four days. So no make sure every cow-owner should know, only pure and clean water, such as he provides for his own family, should be given to a milk cow. If watered regularly twice a day from a good well, a cow will soon so appreciate it that she will not drink out of a stagnant pool or other suspected water.

SOWING OATS AFTER WEEDS.

Mrs. F. L. W., Senoia, Ga.—I have some land that has not been in cultivation this year, and if I sow it to oats in the fall, while the negroes are idle between fodder-pulling and cotton-picking, I would like to have it plowed—if this plowing under of the weeds will not injure the land. I have always heard the land would be injured if weeds were plowed under. Please write me about this fully, and I best wait until frost kills the weeds? The land has weeds on it from 1 to 6 feet tall, and I wanted to have it plowed now and then later. Thanks for a reply.

Answer—The only way known to me that turning under weeds will injure the land is by causing a degree of sourness and at the same time putting it out of condition for following immediately with a small grain crop, because of the loose, open condition, which causes the moisture to dry out and also prevents the roots of the small grain crop from taking firm hold on the soil. To prevent this the turning under of the weeds or a green crop should be done two months, or even longer, before the proper time for sowing the small grain, long enough to have two or more good rainfalls on it, serving to compact the soil. This may also be accomplished, when necessary, by running a heavy roller over the land, using a regular harrowing in the grain, or plowing under at once and sow your oats about middle of October.

SOW "DOWN-IN-LOINS."

"J. R.," lar, S. C.—I have a fine sow that was very fat when she found pigs in April. Was just one year old when pigs were 3 weeks old. She commenced getting stiff in find legs in two weeks. She could not get up, and has been dragging ever since, but is still fat. Have put tar cloth on loins twice, but does no good. Give me remedy through Constitution and oblige.

Answer—Your sow probably has what is scientifically known as paraplegia, or paralysis of the hindparts, commonly known as "down-in-the-loins," when that stage is reached. This disease is sometimes caused by a severe blow on the rear part of the spine, but perhaps oftener by an altered condition of the terminal nerves or of the spinal marrow. The treatment is as follows: In the early stage give a grown hog 1 ounce of castor oil with 1 or 2 drops of croton oil in it. As soon as the physic has operated give 5 or 10 grains of iodide of potassium three times a day in the drinking water, or if she will not take it that way put the medicine in a little water and give it from a spoon. In three days, if no improvement, give her from 5 to 3 drops of fluid extract nux vomica and 15 to 20 drops of oil of gaultheria in a tablespoon of sweet oil three times a day. Also rub the back once a day with compound soap liniment. Feed her on oat meal mush and milk with anything else that she will eat. You have waited too long and I fear you will lose her.

OVER-SERVICE.

P. A. Winter, Corsicana, Texas.—I have a young bull which was allowed to run in a pasture with too many cows for him, and too much service has caused him to lose in weakness of the hind legs. He does not want to walk about, but lays down much of the time. His appetite is good. Will you please give answer by mail, as I want treatment for both as early as I can get it.

Answer—Your young bull should be placed to himself and given a course of tonic medicine, say 1 dram pulverized nux vomica, 2 drams pulverized gentian root, ½ ounce linseed meal. Give as one dose morning and night for a month in bran or corn meal.

Wanted—An Offer on 290 Myrtle Street

When a bargain in real estate is put on the market there are always certain conditions that are brought to bear upon the present owner, making it essential that a disposal be made of the property at once. If these conditions were not of a pressing nature the property would never be offered at anything like the present price.

The persons who always come out ahead on these trades are the ones who size up these conditions for what they are worth and take advantage of them at once.

On one of Atlanta's prettiest streets—Myrtle street—we offer a 10-room home on a corner lot, 60x190 feet, faces east and is elevated. This home is absolutely up to date in all respects.

The owner is in such condition that a disposal must be made of this property. Make us an offer and we will submit it, regardless of what it is.
